Art DepartmentOutlet For Creative Talents And Instincts

Upon entering the art room, one may have to duck to avoid such air-born objects as clay, macreme beads, and many other materials, varying on the project for the day. As you scan the room you'll view students frantically trying to complete the weekly compositions which are due in 15 minutes. Suddenly your eye catches a black revolving door into which people seem to be disappearing. Your curiosity being larger than your fright, you dare to walk over and enter. Inside you're introduced to the wonderfui worid of photography complete with negatives, stop bath, etc. Next observation is what Mr. Zilverberg calls "block printing"-an ¡deal way to print greeting cards of all kinds. Even more interesting are the photo essays on varying subjects, just one way for each individual to express his/her own talents and interests. Why, here's one on track, this one in on old barns, and this one is about somebody's pets. You want to know how to get out of here? - Just ask for a pass to the library

Color, Design, And Drawing Ceramics Crafts ... Graphics Creativity

Classes offered to the Sr. High students include the following: "Color, Design and Draw," "Mediums and techniques," "Graphics," "Crafts," Generally the objectives of these classes are to teach techniques, to teach students how to handle materials and to express themselves through the use of these materials. Students might work with charcoal, india ink, ceramics, the process of silk screening, loombeading, as well as an unlimited number and scope of independent projects. Each of these projects is intended to allow a student to express individualism and creativity. These classes are under the supervision of Mr. Zilverberg and Mrs. Mason. Art appears as an elective on a majority of the schedules for Senior High students. In the spring of the year an annual art show is held, usually in conjunction with a choir concert, and displayed are creative projects projecting the imagination and ideas of many aspiring young artists.

"Business Is The Business Of The Business Department" Anonymous

Data Processing is a business course which covers the cuncepts of data processing, computers and business, systems and procedures, and preparation for a career in data processing. The class is designed to meet the needs of two types of students-those students who must be familiar with the concepts and applications of data processing as they affect all business careers and those students who will pursue a career specifically in business data processing. The class enables students to picture a variety of business workers interacting on the job and to understand the flow of data from one worker to the next. The need for careful planning, accuracy, and good communication is demonstrated. Data Processing allows students to look ahead to decide if additional education will be necessary for a career in business.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT "IF WE JUST DIDN'T HAVE TO THINK IT WOULDN'T BE BAD"

Selecting an adequate topic for your Advanced Writing paper can be brain racking. You want something interesting, unique, and easy. Everyone else cops out and picks Effects of Chemical Use/Abuse, or Pollution, or Capital Punishment. What about something exciting like Effects of Winter Precipitation on the Carver County Corn Crop in 1962, or Nesting Habits of the Yellow-bellied Sap Sucker. The Social and Sexual Custom of Footbinding in Traditional China Was a Form of Social Pervision Which Symbolized the Inferior Position of Women. That should be easy to prove! Let's see: Since the foot is connected to the leg, and the leg is connected to the trunk, and the trunk is connected to the neck, and the neck is connected to the head, and the head contains the brain, therefore (transition word) the foot is connected to the brain. Consequently (another transition), binding the foot to prevent physical growth is like binding the mind to prevent mental growth! Logic, pure and simple. This topic will be a shoe in. A little leg work will dig up some research, throw in a few footnotes, and just wrap it up.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS PROVES TO BE PRACTICAL, APPLIED KNOWLEDGE

"Students in our area complete and accomplish as much or more than any other curricular or extra curricular activity, without the aid of booster clubs, concerts or Friday night crowds," insists Mr. Lehtinen. In Industrial Arts, student activities are directed towards goals that will benefit them in the business of living and enjoying life. Students duplicate and create for themselves a variety of techniques and projects in classes. Learning to use their hands to save money or make money is demonstrated by the various sales at school. Over the last few years there have been a number of changes in the Industrial Arts classes. Typical projects being put out now include tables, trailers, chests, hoists, etc. Another change is the dramatic enrollment and interest being given by the girls, which has been expressed as welcomed! If you take a walk down to the Industrial Arts part of the school you may encounter some hair curling smells and some deafening sounds, but it will be well worth it. What you'll find is a number of students creating beautiful pieces of work out of just a piece of wood or steel.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT COURSES DRAW DIVERSE STUDENTS

Drafting or technical drawing is a broad field that expresses graphic language. It is applied to drawings used to express technical ideas such as multiview projection, sectional views, auxiliary views, trends, fasteners, design and working drawings, gearing, cams, sheet metal layout, pictorial drawing and associated dimensioning and tolerancing. Some of the tools used by an individual associated with this field would be an ellipse template, low compass, 45 triangle, engineer scale, and blueprint machine. This class will help students after high school on college entrance exams, or anyone who is planning to enter a trade such as carpentry, auto mechanics, plumbing, building contruction and many others. Students planning to enter vocational school will especially benefit from a class such as this. High school drafting class will give a definite edge for it teaches a large portion of the basic technical drawing knowledge necessary. Drafting is taught by Mr. Hartung and is offered to 10, 11, & 12 graders.

Mathematics Dept.Where Two Calculators Are Better Than One!

"In a triangle whose perimeter is 44 centimeters, the length of the longest side is 4 centimeters less than the sum of the lengths of the other sides. Twice the length of the shortest side is 9 centimeters more than the difference between the lengths of the other sides. How long is each side of the triangle?" Well, that shouldn't be too difficult. I can take care of that one after "Mork and Mindy." All it will take is a single application of Cramer's Rule for systems of three linear equations in three variables. I think. Then again it might be just as simple to watch "Mork and Mindy" and ask someone else for the answer tomorrow. No, not me. Sonya Kovalevsky has nothing on me. I'll do this homework right now and Mindy will have to cope with Mork herself this week. Three variable equations hold no fear for one who has conquered Graphs of Linear Equations and Inequalities, or Applications of Linear Relations. On the other hand, Inverses of Periodic Functions: Polar Coordinates and Vectors is not for the weak of heart nor short of sleep. That's it. A good night's sleep and I'll get the answer from someone else tomorrow.

Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation Puts Care A Step Away

"You come upon someone lying passed out in the hallway, what is the first thing you do?' Mr. Blanshan questions his First Aid Class. First Aid classes at WHS, taught by Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Blanshan, now carry a course in CPR. Having completed Health and being a 11 th or 12th grade student are the requirements for the elective class. CPR stands for cardiopulmonary resuscitation which is a manual method of supplying oxygen and blood to the individual whose heart and breathing have stopped. In order to receive a CPR certificate the student must pass written and skills tests. Certificates are given through the American Heart Association and each student that qualified is listed by the A.H.A. The skills test includes having to actually do CPR on "Annie" and a recessive baby. Mr. Blanshan chuckles as he tells how Martha Schelitzche and Kay Fritz were the only students able to "actually" get Annies heart to beat. CPR is not all that First Aid deals with though. It is a class designed to give students basic knowledge and skills to treat the victim of an accident or sudden illness. Students are involved in accident simulations in assorted situations such as auto accidents, sports injuries, home accidents, poisoning, etc. Now when you come upon someone lying in the hallway, what do you do?!

CONSERVATION CLUB SERVES TO PROVIDE STUDENTS WITH ECOLOGICAL EXPERIENCE

In reflection the WHS Conservation Club enjoyed many educational, beneficial experiences. Twenty-three ambitious, determined members (including President Renee Walters, Vice-president Becky Holmes, Secretary Rhonda Michles, and Treasurer Mike Crislip) provided memorable experiences. The year began with a cookoutcanoe trip along the Minnesota River. The weather, chow, and everything were great until the canoes capsized (probably tricky river currents). Main conservation projects included the winter wildlife feeding program. For this the club had gathered nearly a ton of corn in the fall and, after the corn fights, there was still nearly a good half ton left to distribute. Other projects included the making of wood duck boxes and bird feeders, and planting 500 nut, fruit, and coniferous trees for the school's wildlife study area. Club funds were raised with litter clean up projects, Christmas tree sales, T-shirt decal sales, and spring raking. Lighter activities included a fishing contest, winter hike, and tour of the Greater Northwest Sports, Boat, and Camping Show.

Something to remember and pass on to the other students .... Science courses naturally include topics like ecosystems, embryology, interactions, electromagnetism ... But what the registration handbook can't tell you about is the experiences and things said that you'll especially remember and relate to. With Mr. Westermann it's long complicated word lists and ending his lectures with "Well that's about it in a nutshell, any questions?" Mr. C. Johnson has all of those "dangerous" experiments where you turn off the water faucet and end up flooding the typing room(!?). Physics with Mr. Tisel will bring to mind all those educational "Thoughts for the Day" and the filing cabinet that was converted into a Christmas tree. Mr. Peterson teaches Plant & Animal and Conservation in which you learn what wild foods are edible and enter in the world of bacterial studies. ## Social Studies Dept The Good Old Days Are The Times Of Our Lives

"Can I leave the room ... I don't know can you? Excuse me, may I leave the room?" You not only learn about history in Mr. Luebkes classes but also a little English. The social classes offered at WHS are as different as the teachers who teach them. If you ask any student what they remember about Mr. Luebke's classes they would have to say things like; memorizing countries and capitals, taking notes on all the countries with a big test at the end and also seeing slides and movies of the places you have learned about. Remembering about Mr. McDonald's classes would be a little different. There it would have to be T.S.A.'s, going to the library once a week, Study guides. Mr. Blassey's students would remember doing a Life philosophy, drawing an Ideal prison and watching the basketball tournaments. Mr. Johnson's lectures tell you all about our founding fathers, McCarthyism, and the rise of nationalism. Since you took notes on all the lectures (what?!) you naturally had no trouble with the tests.

VOCATIONAL CENTER OFFERS VARIETY OF JOB RELATED COURSES

The Vocational Center is a four quarter length commitment offered to all interested juniors and seniors. Programs educate a student to a level that they may find jobs, but some require additional post-secondary training. In "Model Office" you are treated as an actual employee. "Food Service Occupations" deals with necessary skills for employment in the food industry. "Automotive Mechanics" teaches skills in the repairing of automobiles and light trucks. "Construction Trades" is the class which deals with the basic skills of carpentry, electrical, masonry, plumbing and heating, painting and wallcovering, and carpet laying skills. "Graphic Arts" includes skills in layout and design, copy composition, camera work, darkroom procedures, platemaking procedures, silk screen printing, and bindery operations. "Horticulture Occupations" deals with skills involving basic theory in the classroom and actual job experiences in the laboratory and field. "Health Care Occupations" teaches health concepts as students explore the various careers in the health field.

Yabba daba doo ... sprints ... break downs sprints ... Who are you? CHIEFS! What kind of Chiefs? TOUCH AS BOILED OWLS! The sprinting Chiefs accomplished a number of feats, including defeating Eden Prairie for the first time in 14 years, holding Buffalo, the power offense of the conference, to 31 yards during the second half, and rushing against Buffalo for a season's high 361 yards. Another success was holding Mayer Lutheran to a minimum 2 yards rushing. The Chiefs also retained the Little Brown Jug for the second consecutive year. Quarterback Tom Gothmann and Fullback Bruce Leivermann were named to the All-Conference Team with Tom Gregory, Wayne Plocher, Rick Kettler, Tim Gothmann, and John Deleeuw being honorably mentioned. The Mr. Hustle award was givenoto Rick - Noeldner, while Kevin VanEyll was named Most Improved. Wayne Plocher and Tom Gregory were named 1979 Co-Captains.

HOMECOMING

Tim Gothmann And Lori Waldera Crowned King And Queen; Mohawks Trim Chiefs In Close Football Encounter

Excitement, spirit, and frustration for football players and fans described this year's Homecoming. Lori Waldera was crowned queen by the 1977 queen, Brenda Dahlke. Tim Gothmann was presented with a sceptre as the Homecoming king. King and Queen candidates as well as class pages, were voted for on the previous Wednesday. Grades $9-12$ voted for king and queen candidates. Homecoming activities included Ribbon Day, Back to the 50's, Do your own thing, and Hair Day. The spirited Chiefs battled intensely before succumbing to the Mound Mohawks 14-7. The Volleyball team fared better defeating their opponents on Thursday evening before the largest crowd to see a Volleyball match in Waconia. The Marching Band half-time performance involved band members from the past seven years. Homecoming activities concluded the following evening with the Indoor Marching Band Concert. Homecoming 1978 proved to be exciting, and even the loss of the football game could dampen the enthusiasm of those involved.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyballers Bump, Set, Spike, And Bounce Back To Grab Third Place In District 17A Competition
"Fourth in the conference, but first in our hearts and third in the district!" Physical conditioning played a major part in the success of this year's program ... players will remember killers ("center court'), running the steps (groan), neck drills, circle bumps, and new knee pads. Three seniors, juniors, and sophomores battled to a 4-4 record in the conference (Shakopee was the best game) and ended the season with a third place in District 17A. Another high point for the girls had to be getting the football players to help win the Homecoming match. Low points included inconsistent play and struggling to keep battling, but there was always the motivation of Coach Blassey, "If they get over ten, you run!" Senior Kris Paul demonstrated great persistence in working her way toward an SWC All-Conference Award.

Hey, All Waconia Fans are just a few cheers used to get the crowd of their feet to cheer the Chiefs on to victory. This years advisor was Ms. Almen while Vicki Litfin led the cheers ("I just had a bigger mouth"). Some of their activities included a watermelon feed for the football players, posters, and designing locker thingies. During pepfests the student body was entertained by the bubble gum skit, new teachers eating crackers, and the Chief Lightining routine. Both the cheerleaders and Pom Pon girls attended a clinic at the $\mathbf{U}$ of $\mathbf{M}$, and the Pom Pon girls hosted a clinic for four schools. Pom Pon advisors were Julie Tewinkle (a 1975 Pom Pon girl) and Sue Simons. The dance line will remember routines for Espana, Greased Lightining, Sweet Georgia Brown, and Copa Cabana.

1 A and B squad cheerleders cooperate in preforming this mount which Diane Meyer seems to be enjoying more than Dawn Vagts. 2 Sr. football cheerleader Lori Waldera expressed great enthusiasm. 3 Jr . # GIRLS TENNIS

Spring, Slam, Follow Through, Volley, Charge The Net Girls' Tennis Team

 Battles Youth & Inexperience To 5-8 RecordSprinting, baseline to the net and back again, and then again to the net ... The conditioning drills, the volleying drills, and the focus in developing fundamental skills were all necessary practice procedures for a young girls' tennis team which featured only one senior among the top seven playrs. Mary Gatz, the only senior, led by example as she finished the season with the best overall record. Coach Thometz always encouraged #1 singles, junior Michelle Molnau to concentrate and play the net more aggressively, while her advice for doubles partners, Lori Wollin (Soph.) and Karen Schlumpberger (Soph.) was to keep the strokes low and maintain control. Lori and Karen improved to a point where they placed second in the conference at second doubles. Rounding out the letter winners were junior Joan Radde and third singles and doubles partners Jan Tewinkel (Soph.) and Mary Gatz (Senior). With constant encouragment not to get down or frustrated, but rather to hang tough and fight back, the very young chief tennis team finished sixth in the conference and had a respectable overall record of five wins with eight losses. Six returning letter winners will be back to improve upon that record.

1 Jr. Michelle Molnau completes a serve. 2 Jr. Sarah Zimmer shows concentration in putting some zip on the ball. 3 Sr. Mary Gatz seems to be enjoying the contest. 4 Coach Thometz does not seem to be enjoying the contest. 5 Soph. Karen Schilumpberger puts power into her serve. 6 Soph. Jan Tewinkle is ready for a big play. 7 Soph. Lori Wollin playing doubles at the net. 8 Kneeling: Mary Gatz, Lori Wollin, Robyn Stahlke. Standing: Pam Wagener, Michelle Molnau, Lisa Gatz, Sarah Zimmer, Karen Schlumpberger, Joan Radde, Coach Lydia Thometz. 9 Zimmer zips one. 10 "This is harder than it looks!"

WRESTLNG

"What Might Have Been" Developes As A Theme After Early Mat Success

For the wrestlers it was a frustrating season of "What might have been." As a team the grapplers finished with a $7-4$ record and fourth in the conference. A fifth place in the region and a third place in the Rockford Tournament proved to be the season's highlights. Individually, Clark Machtemes placed fourth in Region 5A, Randy Logelin finished third in District 17A and seventh in the region. The wrestling chiefs started the season strongly by defeating Glencoe (30-22), Orano (34-23), and Chaska (37-20). Shakopee broke the winning streak (14-41) and the Chiefs later fell to Mound (17-42), Buffalo (25-33), and Hutchinson (18-40). Coach Zilverberg awarded twelve varsity letter-winners, five of whom were seniors: Brian Weinzierl, Marty Klatt, Randy Logelin, Paul Miller, and Tom Gothmann. The seven remaining letter winners should provide a solid nucleus for the 1979-80 varsity Chiefs wrestling team.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Boys Take Second

Place In ConferenceSteve And Stu All-Conf.
"The thrill of victory, the agony of defeat," has gotten to be a cliche in sports, but, in fact, the remark may be applied properly to the fortune's of Waconia's boy's basketball team. The fifteen wins and sole position of second place in the conference represent an outstanding effort by a talented team. The four disappointing losses were frustrating in that each one was a crucial contest. After notching two victories the chiefs fell by one point to a ranked Glencoe team, and by ten to a ranked Chaska team. The chiefs machine then racked up nine straight victories and was in a position to challenge for a conference championship. Then the lights went out. Chaska came from behind at the horn to take a one pt. victory at Waconia. One more disappointment remained, a tough loss to De LaSalle in the district tournament ended the season too soon for Waconia players and fans. Coach Ron Anderson stressed defense early and the team accomplished their goal of being one of the best defensive clubs in the conference with a 44 point defensive average. Reaching in and giving up the baseline were cardinal sins not often committed. Sr. Steve Fritz and Jr. Stu Oftelie were named to the SWC All-Conference Team.

Conference Co-Champions, District 17A Champions, Region 5A Runners-Up Girls Battle Their Way To A 19-4 Record

Don't reach! ... Concentrate! ... Get position!
Successful teams work hard and that is what rocketed Waconia's girls from preseason predictions of a sixth place conference finish to an actual tie for the SWC Championship with perennial power Shakopee. It was a season of come backs: coming back from an opening 17 point loss to win the next eight games; coming back from a 3rd quarter nine point deficit to end Shakopee's conference string of 37 victories; coming back from a 22 point loss in the first game to beat Chaska by eight. Their 19-4 record was the best ever for a Waconia girls' team. Seniors played a dominant role as Charlene Schuler led the team in points scored, field goal percent, offensive, and defensive rebounds. Vicki Littin was first in shots, second in scoring, third in rebounding. Kris Paul was first in free throws, second in shots, third in scoring. All three were named to the SWC All-Conference Team. Junior Sue Koppi directed the Chiefs' attack from the point. Sophomores Terri Honebrink and Ronda Goetz saw plenty of action.

CHAMPIONSHIP

Defense Paves The Way For The Chiefs' Attack ... 19-4 Record Best Ever For WHS Girls Cagers Char, Kris, Vic, Named To All-Conference

The girls' basketball team built a winning record by playing consistently on defense. Earlier in the season the Chiefs' were plagued by turnovers and low shooting percentages. Waconia finished the regular season strongly, winning the last three games to become conference Co-Champions. Defense was a key all year and Waconia showed they were ready for tournament play be holding Minnehaha Academy to a season's low of 17 points. The second district contest proved to be a thrilling come-from-behind last second victory over a tall, talented Delano team. In the District Championship game Waconia beat a tough quick Marshall-Univ. team. Waconia started slowly in the Region 5A semifinal game, but, again, stubborn defense turned the game around and Waconia defeated Dassel-Cokato 55-29. The Region 5A Championship game was disappointing in that the offense was able to generate only 30 points, but defense again kept the game close well into the 4th quarter. Waconia lost that game to an Albany team that went on to finish second in the State Tournament. Conference Co-Champions, District 17A Champions, Region 5A run-ners-up. A year to remember.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

American Field Study, better known as AFS, is a newly formed club at WHS. Mr. Rauschendorfer and Ms. Simons coordinate it with the purpose of exchanging foreign students with schools in foreign countries. Their purpose was fulfilled when they conducted Waconia's first AFS International weekend and participated in various planned activities. Some of the club's other learning experiences included a weekend exchange with the Hutchinson students and visiting the Swedish Institute. The club receives its funds from the doughnut sales, a button sale, and the spaghetti supper which was open to the public. Thirty-two members make up the AFS club including Christer Cedervall from Sweden, who is WHS's first AFS exchange student. With sufficient funds the hope of sending some of the members abroad will be fulfilled. The "government" of this group is: President-Eric Erickson, Vice-President-Mark Stangret, Treasurer-Diane Meyer, Secretary-Teresa Taylor.
