We got spirit, yes we do. We got spirit, how 'bout you? The 1989-90 school year was one filled with zest and vitality shown in a variety of ways during the course of the year.

The yearbook staff has attempted to bring out the enthusiasm of the students throughout this book. The senior class demonstrates some of their spirit by posing in the shape of a '90 for their class photo.

When's the last time you remember starting a new decade? Probably ten years ago, right? Well, the spirit of the 90's is right around the corner. Spirit was tremendously high throughout the year.

Homecoming ignited spirit in many people, with decorated hallways as well as students during the week of Oct. 13.

Also creating spirit were the referendum and new school issues. Several students wore "Vote Yes" buttons, while others chose to make posters and banners to hang in the hallways. Although the new school didn't pass, it was evident on November 8th that the referendum had.

The holidays also sparked spirit in people. Whether it was # of the 90's

the actual holiday spirit or just the thought of getting out of school, or both, school was anything but quiet.

Just when things seemed to get back to normal, students began talking about where to travel for spring break. Whether staying home or going out of town, many were excited just to get away from school (and teachers) for awhile.

Ahh! June at last! Ugh — finals. Even though finals were dreaded, students couldn't contain their excitement for the end of the year.

Although school is school, many could say that the 89-90 year was anything but boring. And this is only the beginning of the Spirit of the 90's!!

Style 7

ter You!

We thought that might catch your attention! What is this, you ask? Ah, it's a wonderful montage of short, simple and fun little articles thrown in with some art.

Ta-da! What do you think! It is great, isn't it? So just take your time, kick back, and enjoy what was created just for you. (The frazzled, hopeless teenage student with nothing better to do!) — just kidding!!

Telephones, cars, radios. You can't fully appreciate how important these things are, until you have to go without. Can you imagine driving to a basketball game in St. Cloud without tunes? Or without a car?

How about when your plans have changed at the last minute, and without a phone, there's no way to reach your friends?

These items play such a great part in our lives, that when there are little things like a door that sticks, a staticy telephone, or an AM radio, we should make an effort to be grateful for these necessities of life.

A smile can usually be found on the face of someone who's just received a good grade or just won a game. Students also smile to show happiness about a boyfriend or girlfriend, or possibly amusement from one of Mr. Zender's jokes. There's always the beaming faces of those thinking about the weekend, going shopping, holiday vacations, summers, or even the school lunch. Whatever the reason students smile, it is good to remember that a smile adds to your face value!

Far Right. Sophomore Jill Plocher contemplates screaming after hearing, "Stay away from the windows" for the millionth time.

What do these three situations have in common? You are called to the principal's office and you have no idea why. Your teacher decides that he wants you to hand in your homework and the only thing on your paper is your name. Tonight you have a game, you're scheduled to work, and you have to study for a major test.

It is likely that you have been in one of these situations or something similar.

What they have in common is stress. School life is filled with stressful events and learning to deal with them is part of growing up. So the next time you find yourself all stressed out, just take a deep breath and just think that things can't get much worse.

ACONIA

What cologne or perfume do you prefer? According to the WHS yearbook surveys, if you're a guy you probably wear Polo, Obsession, or Drakkar. And if you're a girl, Eternity, Liz Claibourne, Beautiful, or Exclamation is possibly your favorite.

How do you eat your lunch? Do you eat the main course first? Or do you turn the tray around and eat the dessert first?

Senior DeAnn Menth says, "I start with the main entree, then go for the vegetables." While on the other side Tamie Schrupp, a junior, starts with the veggies first. Others start with the fruit and finish with the salad. Some students — Mike "Chip" Bartholow and Jason Dennis — eat their lunches differently every day, but always save the best for last. Senior Craig Rademacher always opens the milk first and then tops everything off with the salad. And for those guys who enjoy two lunches? It doesn't matter; they just double it.

Snacking is a common activity done by students every day. From pop, chips, and candy to bite size peanut butter sandwiches and apple slices, students stash goodies in their lockers to eat in between classes. Whether it's because they didn't eat breakfast or because they are just hungry, it's something fun to do shared by many.

Top. Is that Scott Passentino's tongue, or a piece of pizza?

When was the last time you cleaned out your pockets, or your purse? Besides a few lint balls, what did you find? The editors wanted to know just that, so we grabbed some victims, held a squirt gun to their heads, and "borrowed" a few of their possessions.

Items most commonly found were keys, watches, drivers licenses, and food or gum. Among the more interesting items were hacky sacks, silly putty, and personal pan pizza cards.

It was a dark and dingy metal. It measured a lean, mean six by one. It was my surprise when I opened it and revealed the contents. Inside there was 0 festive decor! Streamers, posters and pictures reminding me that there is life outside of school seemed to jump out and demand my attention. This alone was enough to give me the boost I needed to get through the rest of my day.

10 Flip Side

German exchange student Tomke Grave, who visited Chicago two years ago, attends school in Waconia. She enjoys being active in skiing, sailing, and having fun. Tomke also likes school here because in Germany there's one more year of high school, and the last two years are more like college.

Kim Duske from Watertown transferred to Waconia for her senior year through the open enrollment option. According to Kim, the people here are friendlier, the teachers give more individual attention, and the lunches are better.

Life on the lip 3ide

For all the activities, thoughts, and feelings of students each day, there is usually another side. For each of them there is the flip side.

Where there's an animal lover, on the other side there will be an animal dissector. The person who would rather spend more time with a boyfriend/girlfriend is the opposite of a person who goes everywhere with friends.

People are sometimes only willing to listen to or see part of a situation, not realizing that to every story there are two sides. Seeing both sides helps in making important decisions.

Top. Susie Kelzer, Jason Greenslit, and Dilbert, their cat, show their "liveliness."

· BOUT 6 · GNARLY ·

Slang words are a major part of the normal, everyday life of a WHS teenager. When something good happens or you realize it's going to be the absolute worst day of your entire life, there's always an equally good or bad slang word to accompany the situation. Some favorites this year include some better known ones like excellent, awesome, cool, and rad. A few known mostly to WHS are Q-Q, girly man, and bodacious. The more original ones are pecky king, scrog, and nork.

Individuality. You know it the minute you see it. A certain quality that makes some of us different. Students find several ways of expressing themselves whether it be attitude, dress, or any number of other things. Now, really, how many people in Waconia have nose rings? Senior Sara Wakefield expresses her uniqueness by wearing a nose ring. "I wear it a lot when I'm around other people that have one, but then I come back to Waconia, and no one has one. It's kind of weird if you know what I mean," said Sara. Junior Mike P. Johnson expresses his individuality in many ways, but the most obvious is his long, free-flying, spiky-do. Mike likes his hair and what it looks like. "Why else would I have it unless I liked it? Well, actually, I'm hoping to free the prisoners in El Salvador," stated Mike jokingly. Yep, true individuality!

Friends are friends, forever ... When everything around you is going wrong, who do you turn to? When you're bored at home, whom do you call? Friends are what make a day seem brighter. You share jokes, tears, dreams, and fears. Friends encourage you to be your best, and friends help you to achieve the most you can out of life. That's why ... a lifetime's not too long to live as friends.

One of students' most important activities is vacationing. It helps keep things in proportion and relieves stress by taking your mind off school.

Some hot spots include anywhere from California to Florida where great tans can be obtained. A few of the "cooler" spots include Colorado and Lutsen for great skiing, and there are always the big cities like Chicago and New York for shopping for the latest fashions.

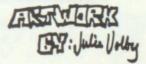

S

Shoes are an important part of a student's everyday appearance. They can say a lot about someone's personality. Fun shoes, such as those made by ESPRIT and the Gap, can be found in all colors and designs. More casual shoes like moccasins and sneakers are worn by those who wish to be comfortable. Pumps, loafers, and flats are slipped on by students who desire to polish up their look. And of course, there are always the basic athletic shoes made by Nike, Reebok, BK, Avia, and Adidas. Whatever brand or style you choose to wear, always remember — if the shoe fits, wear it.

During the cold months between fall and spring, when it's harder to stay outside for long, it is important to have both indoor and outdoor hobbies. Things to do outside g could include skiing, fishing, sledding, skating, broomball, snowmobiling, and snowball fights. When that gets too cold, you could go inside and play ping-pong or nintendo, bake, sleep, read, watch TV, clean, play pool, learn to play a musical instrument, go shopping, or go to a movie.

29

What time of the year is students' favorite? It is Summer Vacation, of course! Favorite activities shared by many include relaxing, going to the beach, boating, water skiing, partying, playing in the lake, or just plain bumming around. Whatever the activity, everyone seems to find a way to enjoy their time away from school.

Students Spend Spare Time Spiritedly

Hobbies, sports, parties, working, dating, and sleeping are all a part of the normal student's life. Pastimes like these help stressed-out students to relax and enjoy life more. After a long day at school, going out with friends takes students' minds off homework, while going to work may allow students to get rid of their frustrations. No matter what the pastime is, it plays an important part in students' lives as a great way to get them through life.

The Global Lowdown

"We interrupt this program for a special report from ...." How many times have these familiar words frustrated TV audiences everywhere? When a favorite show is interrupted, it's hard to be sympathetic to people's plights so far from home.

However, it's necessary to realize the importance of news events and how much each event affects everyone.

When people stand up for their rights, they often face personal danger or criticism, yet it is inspiring to watch the young people standing firm against army tanks in Tiananmen Square, the East Germans toppling the Berlin Wall, or protestors demonstrating against flag burning in the U.S.

Natural disasters such as Hurricane Hugo and the California earthquake or other tragedies such as the DC-10 crash in Iowa, the explosion on the USS Iowa, or the disastrous oil spill in Alaska help focus people's attention on events that touch many people's lives.

October 9, 1989, was an exciting night for all at Waconia High School.

The evening started with a pep fest led by members of the danceline and the cheerleaders. After the crowd settled down, the masters of ceremony, Jason Wolter and Jeanie Heyer, introduced Coach Foley and danceline coach Dawn Swiers.

After farewell speeches were given by former queen and king Debbie Reichenberger and Nate Lindner, the pages and escorts and the king and queen candidates were introduced. Julie Siegle sang, "The Wind Beneath My Wings."

As a result of Finian's burying the gold, Sharon meets Woody Mahoney (Lee Oakman), and the two fall in love.

Finian's Rainbow was staged at the WHS auditorium on November 2 and 3, 1989. Approximately 25 students prepared for about six weeks under the direction of Bruce Rowan, Eugenie Davis, and Rick Hilber.

Florida Is Choir's Aim

The Waconia High School Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Ron Larson, had a very successful year. They performed at contests and put on three concerts during the school year.

The choir's greatest accomplishment was their trip to Florida in March. The choir worked hard to raise the money to go, and their dream finally came true. While in Florida, they performed at Walt Disney World and visited Epcot Center and Wet and Wild.

Pop Group Dazzles!

Being in Pop Group means being able to sing, dance, and perform in front of audiences. But there's a lot of hard work that goes into being a member. For Pop Group members, according to Sarah Johnson, "That's up to three practices a week. Usually on Monday nights, Tuesday morning, and sometimes Thursday night."

The Pop Group does their own choreography that goes along with their songs. Mr. Larson usually picks the songs the group sings. The songs are all put together in one show, with solos included between the group numbers.

The Pop Group also gets invited to sing at different places — for instance, at Island View, the American Legion, and the Evergreen Apartments.

Lively Bands Energize Student Body

The Jazz Band and the Pep Band bring spirit and zest into Waconia High School. The Pep Band performs during pepfests and at games. Their presence helps create a sense of true school spirit among the student body.

Marchers Win Honors

The 1989 marching band completed its summer activities with an impressive record. The band was awarded for their Outstanding Performance at the Alexandria Vikingland Band Festival. They received the People's Choice Award and Grand Champion Honors at the Monticello River Fest. At the Annandale 4th of July Parade, they won first place, with best percussion and best drum major honors as well.

Band Welcomes New Director

The concert band faced a difficult beginning to the school year as they had to adjust to a temporary instructor, Mrs. Lisa Sauer, until the new band director, Mrs. Mary Heideman, started at WHS in November.

In an interview with Mrs. Heideman, she said working with the Waconia Concert Band was an easy transition with the students. However, coming in mid-year made life a bit on the hectic side. Her plans included building a strong balanced program in which students want to remain.

Some of the year's events included a winter band concert, District 17A Large Group contest, and a solo/ensemble competition. The final event of the year was a 7-12 band concert in May.

Publications Capture Spirit of 1989-90

The Profile progressed during its second year of publication. The school newspaper had about the same number of permanent writers, but added many freelance writers. The adviser for the Profile, Mr. Hilber, set many deadlines, but not all the staff met them.

Much work goes into the newspaper — first getting the ideas for stories, then getting the information, and interviewing people for an article. Next, the story must be put on the computer and edited many times. Once the stories are printed, the layout is next.

It's sometimes necessary to come to school on a Saturday morning to finish the layout. Finally, the paper is sent to the printer.

Like the newspaper, the steps in producing the yearbook are basically the same. But pictures are very important in the yearbook with the major concentration on the page layout.

The yearbook staff meets once a week after school to work. The staff made their annual trip to the Minnesota High School Press Association's Convention at the University of Minnesota. Although they didn't come home with any awards this year, they came home with more information, knowledge, and the desire to do better.

School Leaders Plan, Promote Activities

What would Homecoming Week be like without a Homecoming Committee? This year the 89-90 Homecoming Committee planned a most exciting week. Made up of junior and senior volunteers, the Homecoming Committee set up the themes for the days of Spirit Week. They also arranged for the Powder Puff game between the junior and senior girls on Wednesday of Spirit Week. Along with Student Council, they also provided a DJ at the Homecoming dance.

Coronation was also a priority on their list. The committee selected the masters of ceremony and the order of events for the evening. They were also responsible for the stage decorations.

At the Carver County Fair, FFA has a children's barnyard. And at the past Minnesota State Fair, seven members showed dairy cattle. They received second place in their premier exhibitor chapter. Other contests involve competing against 15 other schools in our district.

More recently, FFA had a Corn Drive along with Chaska's FFA, and raised $1750.00 for Camp Courage.

The Student Council accomplished a lot this school year. The group improved the lunch program by adding pizza sales, acknowledged the teachers during American Education Week, and pulled off a smashing Homecoming Dance.

The Student Council also worked to get a student phone that would be open at all times. They also planned to benefit the community by preparing a senior citizens breakfast.

International Students Bring Culture to WHS

International Week is an exchange program that brings area foreign exchange students to WHS. The students, who stayed with Waconia seniors, were introduced to the entire student body at assemblies on Friday, February 9, and then visited classrooms to show slides and exchange information about their countries. Countries represented included South Africa, Poland, Turkey, Australia, and England.

The foreign exchange students arrived on Thursday, Feb. 8. That night the students and their hosts had dinner at Ann Johnson's house, went to the girls' basketball game, and ended the evening at a party at Beth Ratzlaff's house.

Math League Challenges Intellect

Something new at WHS in 1989-90 was Math League. Advised by Mr. Sauer, the group is open to students with high math aptitude who are interested in the challenge of a variety of math related problems. Competing with other schools, this year's team, consisting of members grades 9-12, traveled to Shakopee once a month to test their abilities.

Even though the team never took first place, they gained experience and even managed to have fun.

Jury Room Delivers erformance

The Jury Room, open to grades seven through twelve, was presented March 16, 1990, at WHS.

The action throughout took place in the jury room of the criminal courts building. The play was presented in three acts, each one representing another day of deliberation in the Julie Fletcher murder trial.

Earth Day Generates Environmental Awareness

April 22, 1990, marked the 20th anniversary of Earth Day. An assembly recognizing Earth Day was presented by WHS faculty members. The program began with a video presentation on the environment, followed by two speakers encouraging students to do their part in keeping their earth clean. Next, Mr. John Laulainen recited a poem about garbage by Shel Silverstein. To top off the assembly, ''Trash'' Machtemes, ''Reduce'' Frazier, ''Reuse'' Gus-

To involve the students in Earth Week activities, faculty provided boxes for recyclable paper and trash cans for aluminum cans. A few art students volunteered to decorate these cans. Hopefully, Earth Week made students aware of their environment and its problems and encouraged them to keep it clean.

FLA/FHA Members Excel

FLA/FHA once again had an excellent year. All together, Waconia's chapter won 8 gold medals and 3 silver medals at the state FLA meeting. Waconia also had 5 people out of 50 in the state listed for call-backs to the National FHA Convention.

Another important FLA event was the state-wide name change vote. On the eve of the 45th anniversay of the Minnesota FHA organization, members voted to change the name from FHA to FLA/FHA.

Waconia had two candidates for offices. Carly Coulson was elected as the Region 8 representative to the student body squad. Her job will be to promote physical and mental health in Region 8 through various S.B.S. activities. Lee Oakman was elected to the office of State Public Relations Chairperson. His job is to promote FLA in general and increase membership. Lee will be in charge of the FLA newspaper and will attend the National FHA convention to promote Minnesota FLA/FHA chapters.

To top off FLA's excellent year, Phyllis Lehrke, Waconia's FLA adviser, was awarded an honorary membership for her excellent efforts with the Waconia Chapter.

NHS Honors Achievement

The National Honor Society consists of a group of students who excel in scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The students are chosen by the National Honor Society Advisory Board, which is made up of seven faculty members.

This year the NHS inducted two new senior members, one new junior, and twelve new sophomores. The NHS induction ceremony was held on May 8, 1990.

Students Dance the Night Away at Prom '90

Prom '90 was a spirit filled event held on May II, 1990. The evening began at 5:30 as numerous couples strolled through the archway at the grand march in order to show off their glamorous dresses and stylish tuxes. Following this, students met outside the auditorium with excited parents and friends who couldn't seem to get enough pictures.

Then, the students were off in their limos and cars to the Lafayette Club on Lake Minnetonka for a buffet style dinner and dancing with music provided by the Scene.

After dining and dancing, the night was not yet over by far. The school again hosted its 3rd annual Post Prom Party, Beach Party '90. It included two large hot tubs, dancing, games, food, and also featured the hypnotist, John Palmer.

By morning students were very weary but many managed to go out to breakfast, the hot spot being Perkins. Prom was again a hit with the students and seemed to be one of the highlights of the year for many.

On Sunday, June I0, 1990, one hundred and ten seniors received their diplomas as they graduated from Waconia High School. Speeches were given by Jenny Geiger and Jeff Mortensen, both members of the class of 1990.

In honor of their academic achievement, students in the top 10% of the class wore medallions. Awards were given by the American Legion, the VFW, WEA, and the Rotary as well as by other organizations.

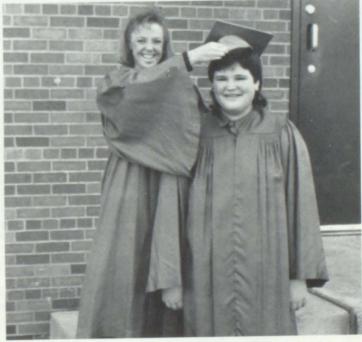

The weeks preceding graduation were busy and hectic for seniors. Because of an agreement they made with faculty to forfeit the traditional senior skip day, seniors weren't required to take final exams.

FOOTBAL Injuries Crush Expectations

The 1989 football season centered around an unusually high number of injuries. The losses of key players, such as Bret McEnelly, with a broken ankle, hurt a promising season. Chad Koehnen and Jason Wolter had injured knees, and Mike Bartholow dislocated his shoulder.

But the season wasn't all bad. Several players had excellent seasons. Craig Rademacher, although this was his first year, was fifth on the team in tackles. Aaron Noeldner rushed for 485 yards. Jeff Mortensen had 99 tackles and Tony Dannewitz, a junior, had 76.

There were also some team highlights. When they beat Watertown 20 to 12, it was the first time since 1973 that the Chiefs had defeated the Royals. In their other victory over Rockford, the Chiefs won in overtime, the first overtime victory for head coach Patrick Foley.

Named to All-Conference were Jeff Mortensen and Derek Segner with honorable mention going to Chad Jacobson, Jason Greenslit, Brad Ess, and Tony Dannewitz.

"This year was somewhat disappointing because of our many injuries," Coach Foley described the season. However, he said that the team worked really hard, and that the outlook for the future looks good.

VB Sees Success in 89 Season

The 1989 volleyball team definitely had a season to remember. The Chiefs' overall record was 23-4. The talented team really played well together, yet they always looked as though they were having fun.

The season came to an unfortunate end when the Chiefs fell to the St. Michael-Albertville Knights in the district championship game. Even though the Chiefs lost early in the post-season play, they considered their season a winning and very memorable one.

In senior Jenny Geiger's words, "We were a bunch of friends with a lot of talent and potential and had an awesome season."

Seven of the Chiefs will graduate, but three juniors and two sophomores will return to play next season. Junior Vici Moonen described this year as "an excellent and memorable season."

BASK FURS Slow Start Hurts Season

After an 0-5 start, things weren't looking good for the boys basketball team. Coming into the season, the team had high hopes. They practiced hard — for two hours every day — and their leading scorer from the past year, Dave Harms, was back.

But they won 11 out of their last 19 games and finished with a regular season record of 11-13.

Top. Chad Koehnen goes for the slam.

In the first game of the District 17A tournament, the team beat Minneapolis Lutheran 63-57 and in their second game they upset Breck 75-58. In that game, senior Dave Harms scored 34 points. That set up a semi-final game against #1 seed DeLaSalle. Waconia lost 79-49 and later lost a third place game.

BASKETBALL Young Team Succeeds

The 1989-90 girls basketball team did well this season, working with a young team of four seniors, two juniors, and eight sophomores. The team started out with problems, such as losing their first three games of the season and having to live in the shadow of the previous year's team. However, as Coach Pudlitzke indicated, "The turning point was the Dassel/Cokato game at home where we upset the conference favorite 44-41." The team went on to complete a winning season.

The Chiefs' overall record was 14-9 and 10-4 in conference play. They finished with a Consolation Trophy at the Norwood-Young America Christmas Tournament and were District 17A runners-up.

The Chiefs were led by captains Julie Cebulla, Ann Johnson, and Cynthia Buetow. All-Conference awards were given to Ann Johnson and Cynthia Buetow; Julie Cebulla and Roxy Wagener received honorable mention. Roxy Wagener also received the Best Defense Award and the Ms. Hustle award. Anne Wiebe was noted Most Improved Player. Cynthia Buetow broke the 1000 point mark for her career and was also Waconia's all-time leading rebounder.

WRESTING Team Enjoys Victories

The WHS wrestling team had its best season since head coach Bob Lindemann started coaching. Their record of 15 wins and only 6 losses proved that Waconia fielded one of its best wrestling teams ever. Another factor in determining the team's success was winning tournaments. Missing second by only 6½ points, they took third at the Rockford Tournament. They improved at the Brownton Tournament by changing their second place finish of 1988-89 to first place in 1989-90.

In an interview Coach Lindemann said that a three coach staff was a big help to both himself and the wrestlers. He also said that the team worked extra hard this year. When asked about other factors contributing to the success of the team, he said, "Someone always came through" to put a match away or came from behind to win. Lindemann was also "pleased with fan support" and he hoped it would continue to improve in the future.

Lindemann believes that with continued fan support, increased numbers of wrestlers, a hard work ethic, and continued help from people such as Wayne Mortensen, future teams can be excellent.

It was an inconsistent year for the Chiefs baseball team. In two losing streaks they lost a total of six games.

As Coach Steve Hullander said, "The team never reached a consistent level of good baseball. There were not enough good games out of our best players."

However, there were bright spots to the season — Chris Hart's pitching, the hitting of Steve Mielke and Aaron Noeldner, and the defense of Brad Ess, Mike Weinzierl, Derek Segner, and Chad Koehnen.

There were also some good games like the 9-6 victory over STMA and the 2-1 victory over Norwood.

Hitting Leads the Way

The 1990 Chiefs softball team, led by seniors Wendy Hamann, Cyndi Buetow, and Ann Johnson as well as juniors Michelle Hedtke and Jenny Boll, finished with a 10 win and 5 loss record in the regular season. Their powerful hitting led them to a 5-2 conference record and a third place finish.

Constant practice and the right attitude led them to inspirational victories like their 12-11 victory over Dassel-Cokato.

Golfers Face Obstacles

The 1990 season proved difficult for both the boys' and the girls' golf teams. By halfway through the season, there were no seniors on the team and only a lot of young inexperienced golfers left on the boys' team. Brian Dueber accurately described the feelings of the boys when he said one of the hardest parts of golf is "to keep from losing your temper." The team, coached by Doug Sayles, placed fifth in the conference. The girls also had no seniors and many inexperienced golfers. There were only four senior high students on the team. But the morale was high and it was "a fun season with a lot of laughs," according to junior Vici Moonen. The team took fourth in conference with Vici Moonen placing second and Kristin Dueber receiving honorable mention. Overall, it was an okay season, and the girls' coach Donna Moonen looks forward to future years.

Tracksters Go the Distance

This year in track was a challenge for both the team and the coaches. It was a difficult season with smaller numbers and fewer upperclassmen than in previous years. The team had four coaches — head coach Connie Manuel, weight coach John Kettler, long distance coach Sheila Frank, and sprinters coach Dave Aeling.

This was the second year of having an Athlete of the Month. Pete Maiser and Emily Zender were the chosen athletes for March, Jeff Schwendinger, Lee Longworth, Tonya Paulson, and Julie Plocher were the April athletes, and for May Jeff Fuller, Kelly Gray, and Roxy Wagener were awarded.

There were some highlights in the I990 track season. The girls' track team was successful with several firsts and at the conference meet they placed second out of many schools. There was also a school record broken by the 4 x 4 relay team — consisting of members Tonya Paulson, Roxy Wagener, Amy Decker, and Jodi LaValle — at the Rockford meet.

An Ending Tradition

The Waconia High School tennis team finished the season with 2 wins and 5 losses. The team consisted of 2 seniors, 1 sophomore, 1 freshman, and 5 seventh graders. Co-captains for the team were Ann Johnson and Brenda Schulz.

The team's individual sacrifice was to achieve their one goal of sending someone to regions. Ann Johnson and Brenda Schulz took third place at the Sub-Region North Division Region 2AA. Amber Christenson was the team's most improved player.

According to coach Bob Lindemann, "My biggest challenge as coach was keeping the girls enthused because the program will be dropped for the 1990-91 season."

DANCELNE Lakettes Win State Again!

The Waconia Lakettes captured first place at the class B state competition held February 24, 1990, at the St. Paul Civic Center. Twenty teams competed in the event, but the Lakettes were able to repeat as state champions by scoring 447 out of a possible 600 points.

The Lakettes finished their season by preparing to perform on national television during the opening ceremonies of the 1990 U.S. Olympic Festival. The state championship didn't come easily as the danceline practiced Mondays through Wednesdays for two hours after school and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

But as senior Lisa Jensen said, "Although we work very hard, we have a good time learning every routine."

Administration, School Board Tackle Funding, New School Issues

Although there are several problems facing the Waconia school district in the next few years, Superintendent Allen Frazier believes that funding will be of major concern. "The biggest thing we have to worry about right now is plainly operating the schools," stated Mr. Frazier.

According to Mr. Frazier, it is likely that in the future a new building will be built. On the rare occasion that the voters don't approve of building a new school in the future, actions will be taken to make room available for the expanding numbers coming into the district. As of the 1989-90 school year, the board was already planning to bring either kindergarten or 6th grade to the high school for the upcoming year.

Mr. Frazier seemed pleased with the outcome of the referendum. He believes that the people were more aware of the need for additional funds to keep programs as they have been. "Referendums are becoming very commonplace," said Mr. Frazier. "It is not unlikely to see schools proposing referendums each year." He also felt that more people coming into Waconia would be good for the community. "Waconia is a nice town for people," he said. "I'm happy to see that people are coming to such a nice town."

Throughout the year, students learn about the cul-ture, history, and foods of Spanish-speaking countries as well as learn the language. Many activities keep these classes from being ordinary. Piñatas at holiday time, new and different foods, playing Spanish games, and a field trip to a Spanish dance production with a stop at a Mexican restaurant give the new Spanish-speakers a break in their daily routine.

Have you ever been sitting through a boring lecture that you really didn't care about?

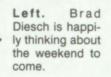

Did you really listen, or did you think about other things?

Well, when you do stray from the normal everyday lecture, you probably think of the shape of clouds, what you're having for dinner, or even members of the opposite sex. You're doing what hundreds of Waconia High School students do every day - you're daydreaming

In fact, for some students, the whole day is in actuality one big, cloudy indulgence in the world of fantasy.

For juniors and seniors WHS offers Advanced First Aid and Athletic Injuries, in which students gain first hand knowledge in emergency skills, and Lifetime Activities and Individual Fitness Evaluation, in which students develop a style of physical activity to promote healthy lifetime exercise habits.

Double Feature

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to have a double, a twin?

If your name is Emily or Sarah Zender, you would know what it's like, because they are the only twins at WHS.

Emily and Sarah think it's fun being twins. They themselves are best friends, and they have many of the same school friends. One nice thing about being twins is that they can tell what the other is thinking.

Being twins isn't all fun, though. They are rarely thought of as individuals, usually receiving the same presents and getting the same invitations. They try hard to be different from each other and keep their things separate. When they were little, they dressed alike, but now all their clothes are different.

Besides studying the history and government of the United States, students do in-depth studies on countries around the world. And by graduation, students should be able to list the capital of every country in the world!!

Modern technology entered the English Department through the Video Productions class. This class provides students with knowledgeable information and practical experience in the production of video programs.

Giving Speeches Jangles Nerves

In 37 hours, 10 minutes, and 16 seconds, you have to give the first speech of your life. Your hands are sweating, your throat is tightening, and your stomach is turned upside down. You are relieved to find out that after this speech is completed, you will have only 15 more left to give. Speech class is a prerequisite to graduating from high school. Therefore, students between grades 10-12 must take this class, which is taught by Mr. Benson and by Mr. Torborg. The class helps students communicate orally in an organized, clear manner.

Ding dong.

"Hello."

"Would you like to buy some pizzas, pies, or croissants from the choir boosters?"

Have you ever heard anything like this at your house? Well, at WHS, the odds are that YOU are the one with a sales pitch.

Items students are selling range from jewelry and entertainment books for FLA, to pizzas, pies, croissants, nuts, and candy for choir, to calendars, magazines and fruit for marching band. The junior class joined in the spirit of things by selling wrapping paper for prom. Student Council sold pizzas every Friday at lunch to raise money. Some students get burned out from fund-raising, but it's necessary to sell, sell, sell.

Art Maximizes Students' Creativity

Art classes, favorite electives, allow students to show their creativity and imagination. Students can enroll in a variety of classes such as Color, Design, Drawing, Studio Art, or Ceramics. After taking general art classes, which involve basic drawing and working with ceramics and water colors, students can decide on a specialized course in the area of their greatest interest.

Technology Courses Popular

Several business and computer classes are offered at WHS, ranging from Bookkeeping to Computer Programming. Students find Intro to Computers helpful in learning the basic computer functions so they can advance to more challenging classes. In Bookkeeping, students learn how to keep financial records. All of the business and computer classes help students looking for careers in today's job market.

Lefties have to put up with many of the righthanders' conveniences like sitting in righthanded desks, having to cut with righthanded scissors and bumping elbows with righthanders at the lunch table.

But there is a lefthanders' motto. "If righthanders use the left side of the brain, and lefthanders use the right side of the brain, then lefthanders are in their 'right' minds."

What is a polar coordinate? What are radicals, vectors and matrices? They're all terms used in math. Math really is more than just 2 + 2 = 4. If a student wants to learn the laws of cosines, he or she can take Algebra II or if Euclidian assumptions are more to one's liking, Mr. Trnka's geometry class might be a good choice. ### Life on the Outside: Close-Up on Mr. Luebke

Contrary to many students' beliefs, teachers do have a life outside of the school. Many teachers have hobbies, second jobs, or just spend their time relaxing when they're not correcting papers or grading tests.

Social studies teacher Jon Luebke is an excellent example. In the fall he coaches football at Macalester College and referees high school and college basketball games in the winter. During the summer he works in the garden, contracts out work for the repairing of townhomes and condominiums in the Twin Cities area, plays on the water, and travels.

Some of the favorite places he has been include Bergen, Norway; Salzburg, Austria; Hong Kong; Bermuda; Antigua-Barbuda. Any spare time he has left he spends on his hobbies — scuba diving, wind surfing, body surfing, reading, and gardening. It is apparent that this teacher is involved in many non-curricular activities.

Hot off the Press

What? Are you sure? I don't believe it!

Gossiping is an activity that goes on almost every second of the day. Gossip travels in many ways such as by talking, writing notes, and even using sign language. Favored topics range from relationships to what teacher is giving a pop quiz that day.

What makes this activity so fun is that by the time the gossip gets back to the people it's about, it's usually news to them!!

Many students who want some variety in their school routine take Foods, taught by home economics teacher Mrs. Lehrke. Students in the class learn the many different aspects of kitchen etiquette.

Aside from preparing and cooking various dishes, a large emphasis is placed on nutrition, place settings, and proper dining behavior. The students enjoy sampling such foods as pizza, hot dish, meatloaf, and pie.

When asked why she chose to take the class, Vici Moonen replied, "I took Foods because I like to eat food." Julie Volby answered, "Because I wanted to take something different. And you get to eat!!"

Science: Focus on Physics

Why do Rice Krispies go snap, crackle, and pop?

How does a frisbee fly?

Questions like these are considered and discussed in this class. Physics emphasizes handson experience and students take part in many demonstrations and experiments. In addition, students learn about phenomena common to everyday life and how to solve problems.

Finding a College

After twelve seemingly endless years, things were finally coming to an end for the class of 1990. But during their long-awaited senior year, there were decisions to be made and goals to be set for the future.

Although some preferred not to continue formal education, many decided to go collegiate. However, preparation for college was not an easy process. After dozens of trips to the college fair and stacks and stacks of mail from schools around the country, colleges were finally chosen.

There were many requirements for choosing the right college. But finally came the key factor for college acceptance: the application! Keith Bluemke (left) demonstrates the time necessary to complete the application process.

Senior Spending Spree

The bell rings at 8:05 a.m. at had many expenses, including WHS. The seniors, if they only knew, were entering the spending spree zone.

Being a senior does not just mean accepting responsibilities, but it also means paying off debts. During the school year, seniors graduation costs and senior photos. There were other expenses - college applications. gas, food, going out with friends, and those little short trips during the year.

The cost of being a senior did not just involve money, but also the emotional losses during the year. This was the last year to be with the people they grew up with. Seniors not only completed a final chapter, but moved on to a new chapter in their lives. Although senior year was an expensive one, not only money-wise, but also social-wise, it was a memorable year that the class will always look back on.

The Class of 1990

by Dawn Hilgers

We are the class of 1990, Friends as anyone could see.

But at the end of the year, We will all shed a tear.

We will all say our good-byes And let out all our sighs.

We have shared many great days, Sharing our memories in different ways.

We promised we would always keep in touch, Never realizing school meant so much.

This past year has gone by so fast. How we wish it could always last.

But now it's time to take a deep breath And face life though scared to death.

The future is a very scary thing 'Cause no one knows what it will bring.

We wanted a chance to make it on our own, But deep down, afraid to be alone.

But don't give up, whatever you do, Because all our dreams can come true.

Just keep your head high, wish upon a star, For we can do it, we CAN go far.

But the time has drawn near. Let's try and face without fear.

For the class of 1990 will say goodbye For the friendships we share will never die.

For we are the class of 1990, And together in heart we will always be.

Senioritis Strikes Again!

Beginning with kindergarten, all through school, there's always one thing that makes it all worthwhile. It's that final step to reach adulthood — the last few months of senior year. The time when you're the elite, top of the heap, creme de la creme, king of the school! Concentration on anything is difficult with all the anticipation for graduation. Add the warm spring weather and it becomes nearly impossible.

With the end of 12 long years of school, the seniors tend to get that "Who cares? We are invincible, we can do anything we want, nothing can stop us now" attitude.

Editor's Notes

Vigor, zest, liveliness, vim, animation, vitality, enthusiasm, verve, pluck, zeal, sprightliness, sprarkle, and audacity. These words, and more, describe the students and events of WHS in the 1990's. As editor of the yearbook I'd like to thank everyone who worked on the book and those who were more than willing to be photographed (you know who you are!) A special thanks goes out to assistant editors Vicki Vialle - for all her excellent last minute copy - and Julie Volby - for her "fun" artwork and cover design. As the year comes to a close, so must another yearbook. This book was as challenging as it was fun to put together, and I only hope you can enjoy it as much as I have.
