{THRIVE}

To make progress toward a goal and to achieve it remarkably

We all want to be accomplished. We all want to succeed and to achieve greatness.

Everyone has his or her own way of overcoming obstacles, but together, we can all learn to

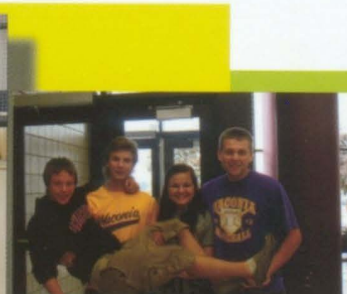

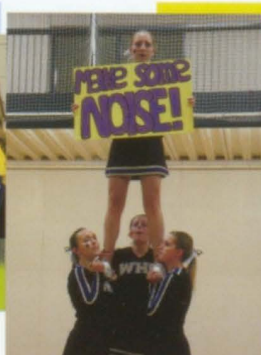

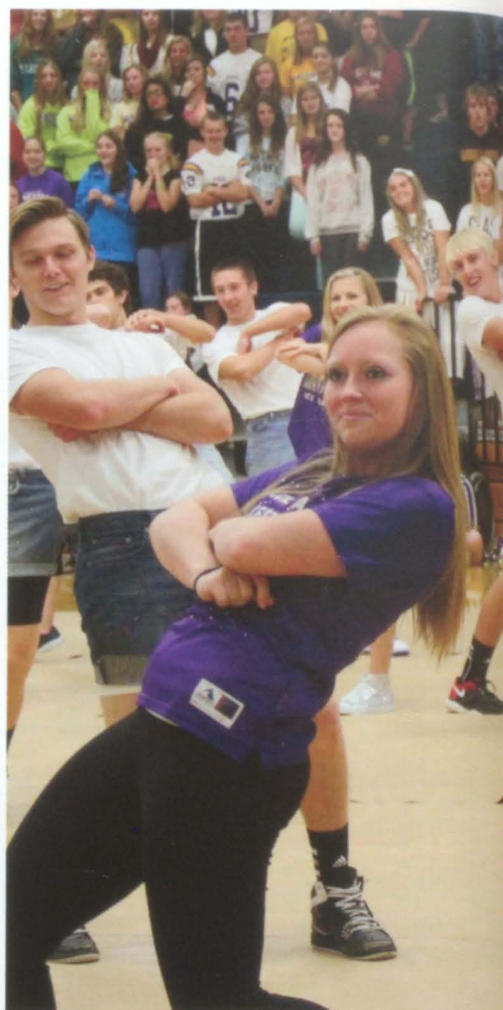

THRIVE.

Right: Senior Homecoming candidates Kaylee Vanderhoff and Thomas Gove perform a humorous dance to an assortment of popular songs.

Bottom: Juniors Claire Sites and Sammi Lund, senior Marcel Montiel, juniors Emily Frey Anthony Shuster, and John Haggemiller show their bold purple and gold Wildcat spirit.

Spirit Abound

Left: Teachers Roxanne Kuerschner and Kate Neibauer fight to take the microphone away from Carl Pierson and Michael Hamann as they play the roles of judges during a parody of the television show The Voice. Junior Neil Heldt, sophomores Keller Billstrom and Ryan Kruchten, and junior Angela Gifford hold up x's indicating the judges' displeasure with the act.

A new king and queen are crowned and the Wildcats run the field Drive

Right: The 2013 Homecoming court
Row Two: Morgan Eveslage, Alison Conley, Micalene Aslakson, Alexis Willems, Charles Frempong-Longdon, Cody Meyer, Jedrek Waligoski, Wyatt Schmitt.

Left: The Homecoming king candidates Thomas Gove, Charles Frempong-Longdon, Ryan Boll, Tanner Larson, and Shawn McHale wait excitedly to find out the results. The boys pulled on the strings that were hanging in front of them and expected a scepter to fall, announcing the king. However, due to fragile securing of the boxes, most of the boxes were pulled to the ground. The candidates were forced to dig through piles of confetti to locate the plastic scepter, which was awarded to Frempong-Longdon.

Above: Junior Elijah Teeselink, seniors Joseph Francen and Zachary Sinnen, and junior Royce Marker, the offensive line, set at the line of scrimmage to support the quarterback for the play. Even though the end result was a loss, the Homecoming game of 2013 proved to be a turning point for the remainder of the season.

Left: Wille the Wildcat greets the crowd and gets them excited for the game. Keeping the identity of the Wildcat mascot a secret is a Waconia High School tradition.

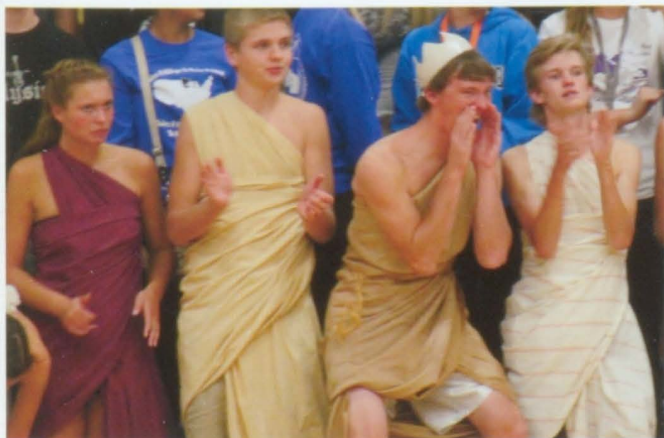

SENIORS

CLASS OF 2014

We have all thrived together these last four years by winning with our team, producing an outstanding show, working on a project together, or by supporting each other. As we move on, we focus on our memories, accomplishments and completion of our goals.

However, we have done more than just thrived during these years. We have grown to be successful in the next chapter of our lives.

CLASS OF 2015

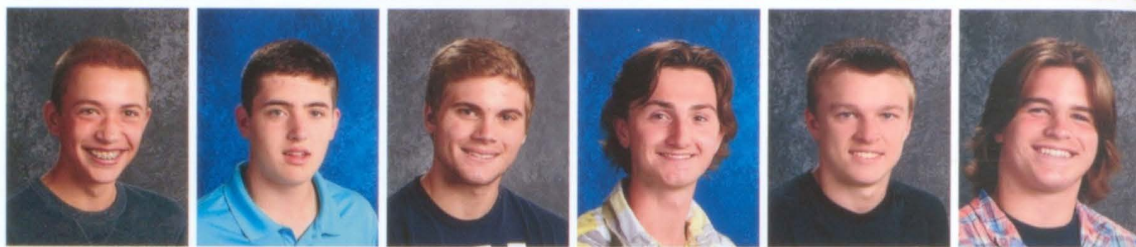

We've finished our junior year, and it's time to look ahead. The memories and growing we've done so far will help us with everything that is to come. There is so much to look forward to, so many different opportunities to achieve. If we embrace the experiences awaiting us and work hard to succeed in all that we do, we can truly shine.

{ SOPHOMORES }

CLASS OF 2016

As sophomores, we have come a long way, but we still have a way to go. We have flourished but are still growing, and we have the time and the drive to exceed even our own expectations. As we continue to progress and evolve, we realize that we have the potential to accomplish and achieve all that we dream of and aspire to be, and if we are able to do so, we can overcome the difficulties and thrive.

FRESHMEN

CLASS OF 2017

We have just taken root to begin our high school experience, branching out and exploring all that is offered. The adventure begins with learning to navigate the hallways, memorizing locker combinations, and understanding teacher expectations. We meet new people by playing sports, joining clubs, and participating in activities and groups, securing our foundation on our educational journey.

{ ACADEMICS }

Waconia High School has a five period trimester schedule. Classes meet daily for seventy minutes. More than ninety- eight percent of Waconia's graduates pursue further education at four-year, two-year, or technical colleges. Our students also earn some of the top test scores in the state of Minnesota.

{ ACTIVITIES }

A majority of students participate in extra curricular activities, offering students multiple opportunities for involvement. Academic activities include the robotics and science teams. Service activities include FCCLA, International Club, National Honor Society, Student Council and SADD. And Waconia Arts Honor Society and yearbook offer students opportunities to showcase their creativity. Altogether, there are more than a dozen student options.

Right: Juniors Abigail Van Den Berg, Sophia Steinbrueck, and Alyssa Kolar enjoy a few laughs while working on their Memory Projects. Advisor Amy Fischer received the children's photographs from The Memory Project organization. When student artists received the photograph, they only knew the child's first name and the name of the country in which they live.

The Memory Project was started in 2003 at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. As of 2014, participants have created 60,000 portraits for children in 35 countries. Participants are mainly from the United States, but students from Canada, Great Britain, Spain, Korea, China, the Philippines and Australia have also participated.

Budding Artists

Art Club members make memories

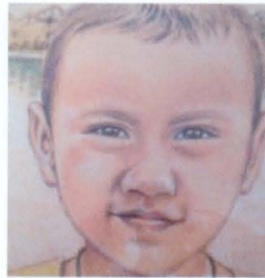

Above: Junior Sophia Steinbrueck creates a sketch of a young child for her Memory Project portrait. Artists used paint and pencil as mediums for the project.

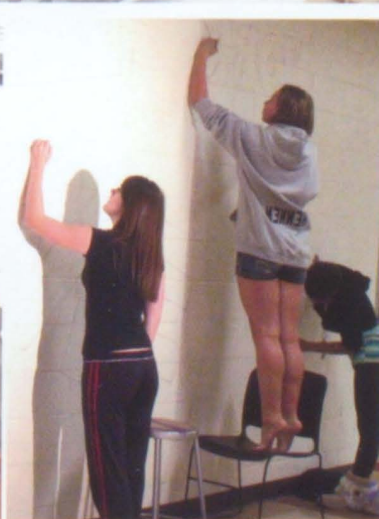

Left: Juniors Alecia Alto and Kia Pankey work on their memory projects. Many of these children have been orphaned, neglected, or are otherwise disadvantaged.

Right: Art Club members painted murals to celebrate service day. Each mural represented the different projects of the day.

Above: During the spring field trip, Art Club members visited the Walker Art Museum and the Highpoint Center For Printmaking. At Highpoint, students learned about the process of print making. They had the opportunity to create a design, scratch the design in a plate, roll it in ink, run it through the printing press, and edit the image.

Left: 2013-2014 officers include Isabella Skerik, Baylie Willborg, Allison Winjum, Ashley Shore, Rachel Tesch, Katherine Bockelmann, and Nicole Hennen. Above: Seniors Summer Dahl and Nicole Hennen work on the senior wall. They wanted to create an original design, different from the graffiti styles of past years' walls.

Above: Art Club members roll ink of the designs they created at the Highpoint Center For Printmaking. They practiced Drypoint printmaking, a technique in which an image is cut into a plate with a sharply-pointed instrument. Drypoint is most often used with other printing techniques and can be used to give dark accents to a nearly completed etching. It's a technique that dates back to the fifteenth century.

Above: Juniors Madison Heckmann and Kiah Larson pick up litter as part of their service hours. Forty service hours are required of all members. In addition to service hour requirements, all members must have an excellent record of behavior both in and out of school, participate in leadership roles in co-curricular and community activities, earn ten activities points, and maintain a 3.55 grade point average. The local chapter tries to embody the standards of the national organization. Founded in Pittsburgh in 1921, the National Honor Society honors students for excellence in scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

Above Left: Juniors Zachary Christians and Mikaela Kauma help a resident make a savvy move in Uno on the Martin Luther King Jr. day of service. Above: Juniors Christina Miller and Spencer Pierson share a few laughs with a resident while playing Sorry. "I loved playing games with the elderly at Good Samaritan," said Miller. "This was a great example of how we serve others as a group." Right: Junior Nathan Glynn and senior Joseph Nessa help set up tables at the Relay For Life event. Members have helped at this event for the past three years. "It's an honor to be selected to serve at this event," said advisor Melissa Weinand.

"The residents really enjoy meeting with NHS students and look forward to their visit. It really brightens their day," said Sue Henrich, a program director at Good Samaritan.

Above Top: Seniors Kaija Kottke and Kortney Luedloff and freshman Madelyn Phelps lead a discussion with Southview Elementary students during an Operation Respect presentation. Members gave presentations throughout the school year, and this one focused on decision making. Operation Respect teaches elementary and middle school students how to deal with bullying. Kottke is the 2013-2014 FCCLA state secretary. Above: Freshman Jordan Thorpe works with elementary students on a project about being unique. Besides helping empower younger students, members prepared for their futures by explaining information in age appropriate ways.

Above: Sophomore Jamie Walters works on a poster for her STAR event project, "Sweet Dreams." She, along with sophomore Makarena Faundez Amigo, presented a project that involved a sleep study, including conducting a comparison study of sleep patterns with three different age groups. Their goals included informing others about healthy sleep patterns and helping others make healthier choices.

Stand Out

Developing leadership one
step at a time

Below: Seniors Kortney Luedloff and Cassia Brand share some laughs during a team building activity at the camp out.

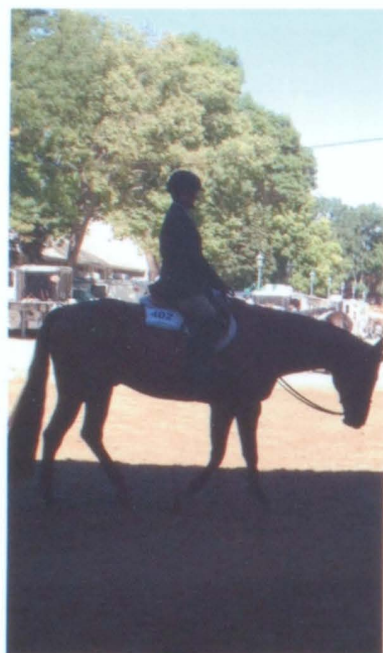

Above: Members recite the Minnesota Creed at the beginning of a monthly meeting. The creed is said at the beginning and ending of meetings because it stresses the values of FCCLA: strong families, strong communities, and strong individuals with positive character to lead.

Left: Madelyn Phelps and Madelynn Lage present their STAR event project, "Invest in Your Success," a project that encouraged students to make prudent financial decisions. Above: Advisor Sue Hartwig and senior Karley Ortloff clean up Connie's Garden, a garden dedicated in memory of a former faculty member.

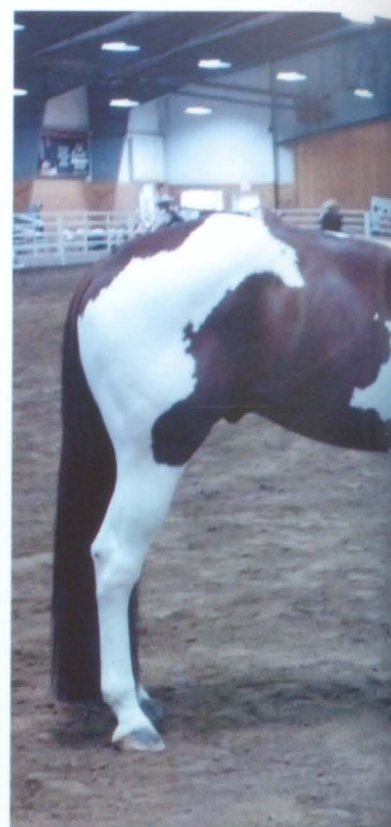

Right: Seniors Desiarae Haas, Katherine Bockelmann, and Madison Sherwood present their project, "Diapers for Haiti," to residents at The Light House. On the Service Day, students in art and in family and consumer science courses used a pattern to cut t-shirts into the shape of diapers. Students in Hartwig's quilting class sewed the diapers.

Left: Junior Sally Russell warms up prior to an event at the Minnesota State 4H Horse Show, held at the Rose Warner Coliseum. She's been competing at the state 4H show since she was in sixth grade. Russell was also the Minnesota High School Equestrian Association (MHSEA) State Champion Varsity Equitation/Horsemanship and Pleasure Western Saddle Club Association (WSCA).

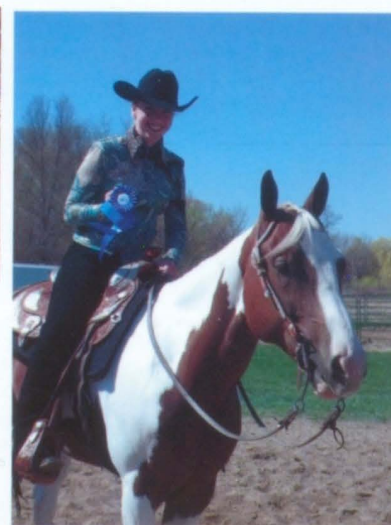

Below: Sally Russell poses after her top ten finish in showmanship with her horse, Henry. She competed in several high profile competitions over the year, including American Quarter Horse Association shows. Russell placed fourth overall in Equitation/Horsemanship & Pleasure Non-WSCA this year.

Below: Junior Alex Stevens and her horse, Zuni, zip through the barrel pattern to beat the clock.

Above: Alex Stevens, who's also team captain, and her horse turn the third barrel cleanly for a blue-ribbon time. Stevens felt she made great improvements on her times throughout the year, and placed sixth in Varsity Western Games.

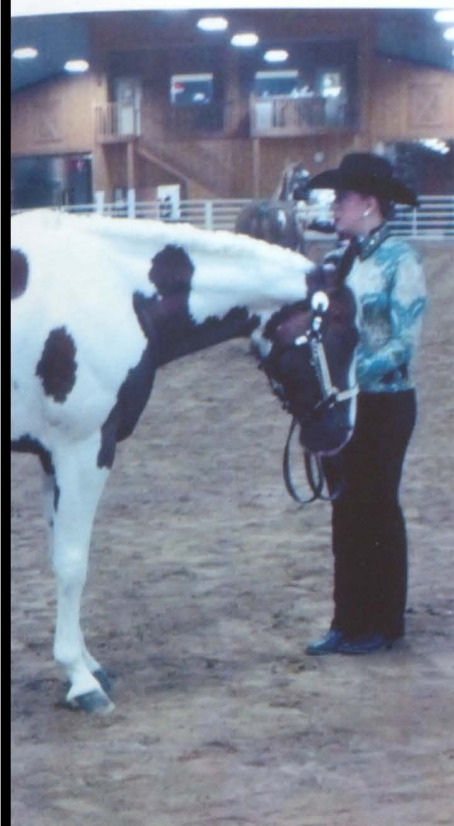

Above: Sophomore Lauren Zabell and her horse, Real Lonesome, pose after winning a western class. Zabell has been riding for years but just started with her newest mount in 2013. This year was an incredible success for her, and she looks forward to the upcoming season. Zabell placed fifth in Varsity Equitation/Horsemanship & Pleasure WSCA.

Taking Root

Equestrian Team takes big strides at competitions, rakes in the ribbons

Below: Senior Danielle Cozine performs in Hunt Seat Equitation on her horse, Pantero, at the Minnesota Equestrian Center. This year was a test for Cozine, as she competed with a new equine partner at several difficult competitions, including Arabian Horse Association breed shows. Cozine placed eighth in Varsity Equitation/Horsemanship (E/H) & Pleasure WSCA, as well as tied for fourth in Varsity E/H & Pleasure Non-WSCA with Zabell. Russell, Cozine and Zabell were also the State Team Champions in Varsity WSCA E/H & Pleasure Team Award, and 3rd in Varsity E/H & Pleasure Team Non-WSCA Award.

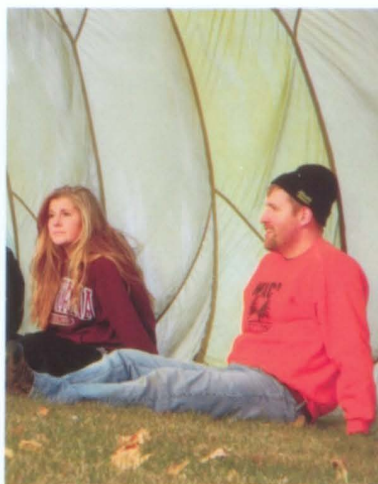

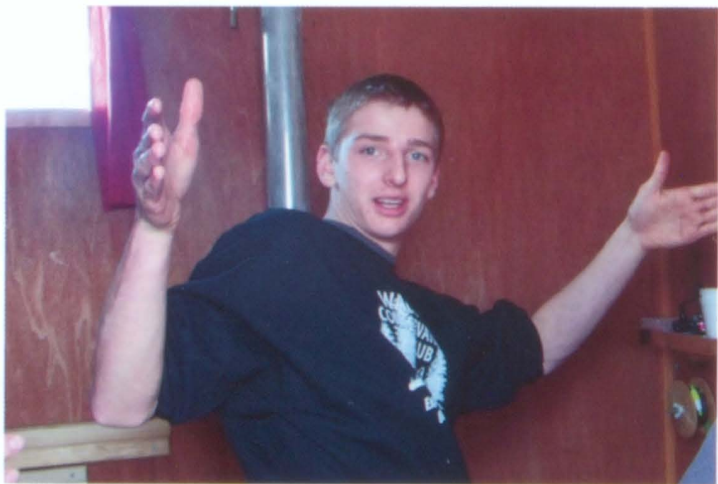

Below: During the annual ice fishing tournament, senior Gavin Held speculates on how big the fish might be. This is the seventh year that the club has done the ice fishing tournament. Club members caught over 100 fish.

Bottom: Seniors Bailey Breeggemann and Desiarae Haas and other members gather around to taste test wild game recipes at the tailgating event. Food options included bacon-wrapped duck, duck kabobs, and cream cheese-stuffed jalapenos.

Below: Freshman Kiana Breeggemann and co-advisor Michael Jensen watch campers parachuting at the fall camp out. Parachuting was a new event this year.

Right: Seniors Curtis Hodgin, Caleb Boser, Jack Dufresne, and junior Cory Hodgin set up a tent at the fall camp out. Approximately 70 students participated in this event.

Below: Junior Chad Storley helps sophomore Ryan Kruchten set up a parachute during the fall camp out, an event held at Baylor Regional Park on October 26 and 27.

Right: Seniors Levi Mathwig and Brady Huggett make a snow shelter at the winter camp out. This event was held at Baker Park in Maple Plain on February 8-9. It was -7 degrees the night they spent at the winter camp out. Club members practiced winter survival techniques to keep warm and dry.

Student Council served breakfast to the class that raised the most money. Members also orchestrated smaller events such as Turkey Bingo and Valentine's Day Matchomatics. "Student Council has given me a sense of accomplishment, and I'm honored to be a representative," said Rands.

Right: Junior Sophia Steinbrueck relaxes in the gym after donating blood to the Red Cross. Student Council members assisted the Red Cross by running the donation center. This year's blood drive was held during the Martin Luther King day of service, which was a change from previous years.

Right: Senior Shawn McHale, freshman Brittany McHale, and other members breeze through Target on a mission to spend $1856.19 on toys and other gifts. After the toys were purchased, they were taken to the Waconia city hall. The toys filled the entire front atrium of the building and were distributed to local families.

Right: Sophomore Megan Rooke twines purple and yellow streamers around one of the Homecoming court props. It took an entire day of school to decorate the gym before the ceremony. In addition to decorating, members went to other schools and assisted with their pep fests, hosted coronation, tore down the decorations and set up the commons for the Homecoming dance that was held later that night.

Below: Senior Annaliese Bruellman smiles as she reviews her Matchomatics results.

Above: Sophomore Ryan Kruchten hands out hot cocoa to unsuspecting students during Cocoa Loco, an event meant to be a random act of kindness. Kruchten said that being a part of Student Council has "built his leadership skills."

Above: Senior Mackenna Trnka and Alora Rands call out bingo numbers and letters and tell jokes during Turkey Bingo, a favorite event of the student body.

Left: Sophomores Molly Klima, Olivia Doeden, Carissa Dock and junior Neil Heldt distract sophomore Erika Cover as she donates blood to the Red Cross. Heldt, a first year member, admits that though being on Student Council is a "big commitment," he said that he "wouldn't trade it if I had the chance."

Positive Actions

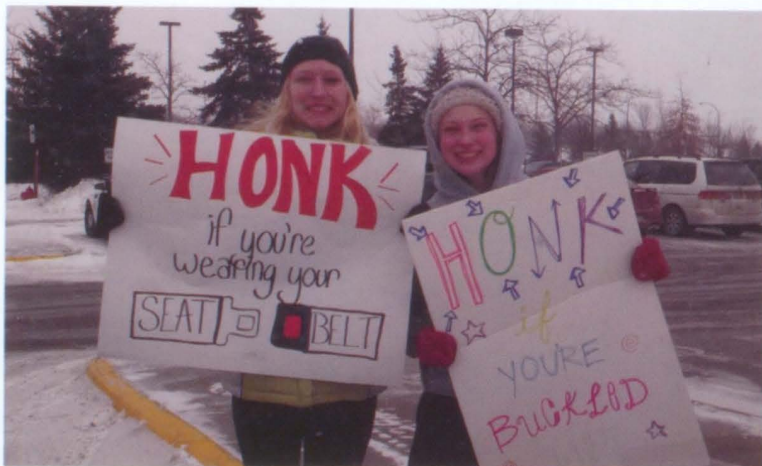

SADD makes a success out of new activities

Right: Sophomore Molly Klima places snowflakes onto random lockers. This new activity showed that just like snowflakes, we are all unique.

Right: Junior and SADD officer Hannah Kilian ties ribbons on vehicles during Red Ribbon Week. The ribbons were intended to be a visual reminder to drivers to practice safe driving habits.

Below: Juniors Laura Grimm and Lydia Weinand hold up posters to encourage drivers to wear their seatbelts. SADD's goal is to prevent students from making destructive decisions.

Top right: Freshman Elizabeth Kern makes a T-shirt to promote characteristics of healthy relationships. All members wore their shirts on Valentine's Day.

Far right: Senior Wolfgang Breeggemann helps hang up birthday posters. Members post signs weekly, acknowledging those who are celebrating birthdays and half birthdays.

Far Left: Junior and SADD officer Christina Miller has fun while tying ribbons onto cars for Red Ribbon Week, a week-long celebration to help empower students to make good decisions, and to be informed of how present decisions can affect our future lives.

Right: The SADD officers created a red ribbon of all of the students' names to encourage the students to make wise choices.

Right: Sophomore Allison Musolf selects photos to highlight the angle of the sophomore division page. Students determine the angle of their spreads based on secondary research and personal interviews with participants.

Turning Pages

Yearbook thrives to highlight the essence of the school

Below: Juniors Kiah Larson, Kaitlyn Schuler, and Alex Stevens engage in conversation after viewing the movie Babies, a 2010 film documenting one year in the life of four babies from around the world-Mongolia, Namibia, San Francisco and Tokyo. This was one of three cultural movie events this year.

Right: Piles of shoes were collected prior to the day of service. The group promoted an understanding of the need for shoes for the disadvantaged around the world. Soles 4 Souls is a global effort dedicated to fighting the impact of poverty. The organization collects new and used shoes from schools, churches and other organizations then distributes those shoes to people in need. The club collected one thousand pairs of shoes this year.

Right: Teachers Bergen Pickett, Kari Stevenson, and Erik Olson practice archery with the Maleku people, an indigenous tribe in Costa Rica. Faculty and students spent a few hours with the Maleku learning about their village, their foods, their language, their crafts, and their rituals for finding a mate.

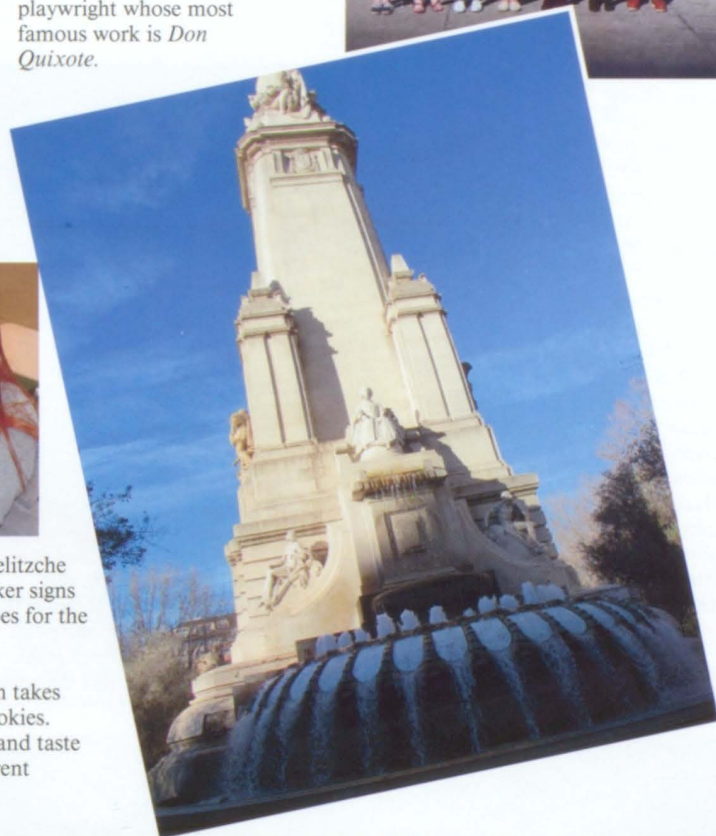

Below: Junior Paige Parvey and 2013 graduate Courtni Carver visited a rural school in Costa Rica where students demonstrated cultural dances while wearing costumes of the region.

Right: Molly Klima, Sarah Schelitzche, Hannah Niesen, Tasha Magrue, Emily Frey, Raina Forcier, and Jack Pogatchnik visited Spain in March. Students visited Madrid and stayed with Spanish families.

Below: Students visited the Plaza de Espana, a popular tourist site in central Madrid near the Gran Via and a short distance from Palacio Real, the Royal Palace. One of the site's main attractions is the statue of Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra, the famous author, poet and playwright whose most famous work is Don Quixote.

Above: Sophomores Sarah Schelitzche and Madeline Hester make locker signs to remind students to bring shoes for the Soles 4 Souls event.

Left: Senior Kourtney Krogman takes from the oven freshly baked cookies. Students had a chance to bake and taste holiday treats from seven different countries.

Robotics Club makes connections, develops new skills

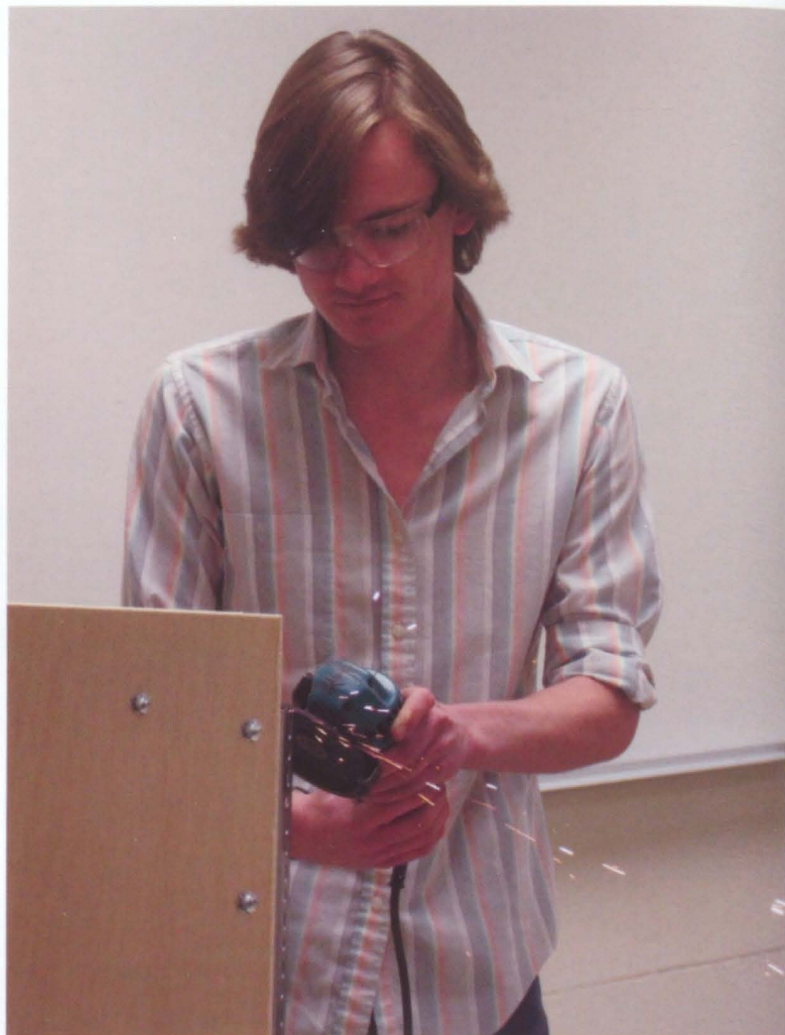

Above: Samuel Bares, Colin Swee, Haley Schoenfelder and Levi Mathwig work with adhesives to construct their second PVC frame. The frames, referred to as "The Net," are used as a guidance system. Below: Bares, Swee, Schoenfelder and Mathwig continue to construct the frame for the robot.

Above: During a two and a half minute match, the team's robot works with two other robots to outscore the opposing team of three robots. The team got one point for a small goal and ten points for more difficult goals. Right: Mathwig uses the circular saw to perfect the edges of the metal tracks.

Left: The robot tries to get the ball in the box. The club built the robot for competition, which included games like this one. The robot was also able to launch the ball at a lofted goal, which earned ten points. The team also received ten points if the robot caught a ball and launched the ball over the truss in the middle of the arena.

Far Right: Schoenfelder inspects one of the arms of the robot. The arms were used to launch the ball through a goal, which earned points.

Right: The Tactical Games Club exists to celebrate the application of strategy and games. With everything from chicken curses to killer bunnies up for grabs, these board and card games make creative strategies a way of life.

Below: Steinhagen clarifies a discrepancy in the rules of a club-favorite game, Magic, to Erickson, Wheeler and Loper.

Far Right: Molly Burke, an inspirational speaker, speaks out against bullies, mental illness, blindness and overcoming challenges. "When Molly spoke about being bullied, she was so confident and inspiring. Seeing her so strong gave me hope," said junior Isabella Skerik.

Right: Seniors Brittley Sealy, Bingle Torres, and Jessica Ramsey smile to show their excitement for We Day, a service day held on Tuesday, October 8.

Above: Students listen as Molly Burke shares her message of hope and inspiration. She began losing her sight at age four. Burke was sponsored by Green Giant and spent time speaking at other area schools.

Below: Juniors Lydia Weinand, Christina Miller, Laura Grimm, and Hannah Kilian and seniors Megan Vit and Shawn McHale were six of the students representing Waconia High School at Minnesota's first-ever We Day.

Right: Junior Kia Pankey and senior Kaylee Vanderhoff play Never Have I Ever at the new student luncheon. To become a Wildcat Mentor, students submit an application during the previous school year. Each application is reviewed by Mrs. Lynette Alger who tries to select students who are involved in a variety of school activities.

Below: Juniors Jason Bullis and Austin Nichols compete aggressively for the title of Ping Pong Champion. Bullis and Nichols were the two finalists after making it through the bracket system.

{ FINE ARTS }

The fine arts are forms of expression, ways to reveal feelings and emotions through art, music and drama. Our musicians, artists and characters excel at all levels, from the local stage to the national spotlight.

Fine Arts are great ways to showcase what can be accomplished. They allow imaginations to grow, creativity to flourish, and dreams to come true.

Above: At the end of the show, all of the band members point to the real thief of the painting.

Right: The marching band finishes one of its many summer performances. Throughout June and July, the group participated in twelve events and seven competitions.

Below: For their annual trip, band members went to Breckenridge, Colorado, and marched in the Fourth of July parade. Parade officials gave band members free t-shirts and a ride to the top of the mountain aboard the BreckConnection gondola.

Thrive in Harmony

Marching band steals the show

Right: The 2013 show, The Heist, is a real 'who done it' and includes many visual elements - a stolen painting, alarms going off, laser beams, and finally, the arrest of the accused thief. This was the band's forty-first year competing, and during that time, the marching band program has won 225 grand champion trophies, 72 second place trophies and eighteen third place trophies.

Above: Street helpers junior Gabrielle Kunze, senior Megan Vit, and junior Elizabeth Honnold pose in front of the show's stolen painting. The street helpers position the show's three props, which contribute to and showcase vital aspects of the show's theme.

Below: The band performs its show at the 29th Annual Alexandria Vikingland Band Festival. Earning a score of 84.70, the band won first place in class AAA and was named overall best wind section.

Below: The commanders march alongside the band during the performance.

Above: Commander Levi Mathwig, one of four drum majors, keeps the band in time. Each commander needs to be on the same beat at the same time in order to keep the band from moving too quickly or too slowly. The commanders also receive instructions from the directors on which shows to perform and at which times to perform during competitions and parades.

Above: During band camp at St. John's University, band members use the yard lines on the football field to help establish where they will stand during an actual performance. Members attend band camp at the beginning of June. On the last day, members return to Waconia and perform their show at the city park.

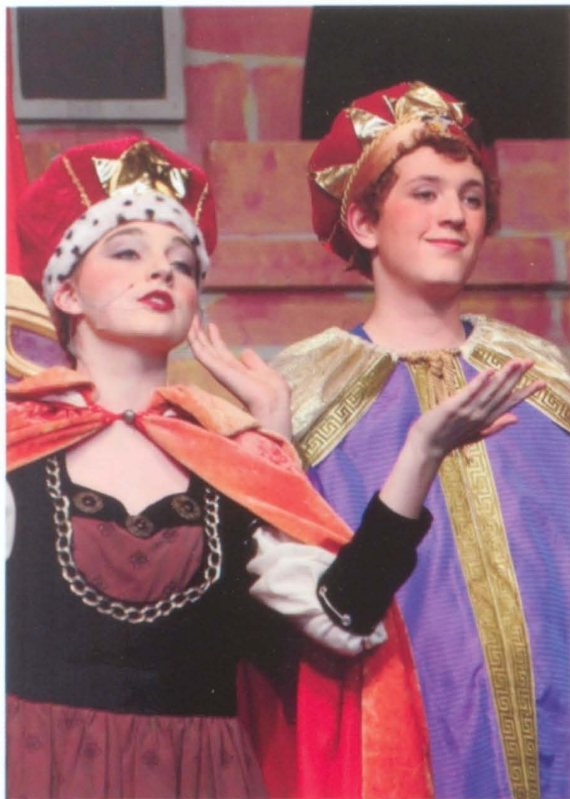

Right: The drumline warms up before a competition. After much wear and tear, the snare drums needed to be replaced. In September, directors Phil Snyder and John Pohland met with the Waconia Lions Club and presented a donation request asking for money to replace the snares. The Lions honored the request and gifted the band $7,500 to replace the drums.

Right: Freshman Michael Miller, who plays the king, mocks his wife (played by senior Cassia Brand) as she launches into one of her many tirades. Miller's character was forced to mime his intentions due to a curse that had left him mute. This quirk sometimes got in the way of his attempts to help Princess Winifred.

Right: Prince Dauntless confronts Queen Aggravain about the matter of marriage. Marriage is a serious subject in this kingdom, because no one is allowed to be wed until the prince marries.

Below: Freshman Megan Girard sings a terrifying tune in an attempt to put Princess Winifred into a sound sleep.

Above: Heather Slice, Angela Gifford, Hannah Kilian, Kaleigh Wirries, Megan Rooke, Laura Grimm and Christina Miller celebrate the arrival of the princess that could change their fate. The queen is appalled that her people dare dance with this atrocious excuse of a princess, especially when her wizards join in.

Above: Senior Kaleigh Wirries sings her heart out as Princess Winifred, the stubbornly optimistic girl who refuses to bow to Queen Aggravain's threats and attempts to throw her out of the kingdom. With the help of the lords and ladies of the court, Princess Winifred did manage to stick it out until the end, beating the queen at her own game in order to marry her beloved Prince Dauntless.

Left: The show is introduced and narrated by the minstrel, who was portrayed by junior Hannah Kilian.

Left: The cast of Once Upon A Mattress put on a show that tells the story of Princess Winifred, who comes to apply for Prince Dauntless' hand in marriage. Her brave hearted attempts are blocked at every turn by Dauntless' mother, Queen Aggravain.

Below: Sir Harry (junior Michael Miller) and Lady Larken (junior Heather Slice) are reunited after Sir Harry journeys to find a suitable princess for Prince Dauntless. Harry's success is not only vital to the kingdom but also to the future of their expected child.

Below Middle: Hortensio and Lucentio place bets on whose wife will be most obedient.

Below Bottom: Baptista and Petruchio wait to see whose wife will be most obedient. Petruchio wins the bet as Katharina scolds the other wives for not obeying their husbands.

Taming A Wild Rose

Can a shrew
become an obedient wife?

Above: Bianca (Cassia Brand) begs her sister to stop being so mean to her. While Bianca is known as the sweet, gentle sister, Katharina is known as the shrew of Padua.

Left: Katharina share her unhappiness with Grumio (Margaret Halloran) once she arrives at Petruchio's estate. Below: Petruchio tells how to woo a shrew. Once he gets his new bride home, he plans to starve her, deprive her of sleep, and forbid her from wearing fashionable clothes until she agrees to be a loving and obedient wife.

Left: Lucentio (Alexis Mueller) is sure he will have the most obedient wife, but Bianca's independence thwarts his chances of winning the bet.

Left: Maria (Anna Broll), Hortensio's new bride, and Bianca are shocked to see the change in Katharina once she returns from Petruchio's home. While they marvel in Katharina's change in attitude, both have different ideas about what it means to be a wife.

Below: After the opening song, the characters slowly transition from criminals to heroes. The second song, "Maybe They're Onto Us," described the fear and hopelessness that the performers felt. This song transitions to the ballad, a heartfelt song about change and heartbreak. The ballad started with "Blank Page" and ended with "Heroes Live Forever," completing the change of criminals and the decision to live a better life.

Below: In the second song, "Criminal," seniors Brittany Johnson and Abby Kalenberg claim they are in love with the criminal, while the boys challenge that with "Trouble Maker," saying the girls are the criminals. The characters changed. They weren't as angry as they were in the opener, and they began to let their true colors show.

Above: Junior Katrina Rinke, and seniors Ashland Buck and Katherine Jensen won the outstanding performer awards at competitions at Bloomington Kennedy, La Crosse, and the Chicagoland competition.

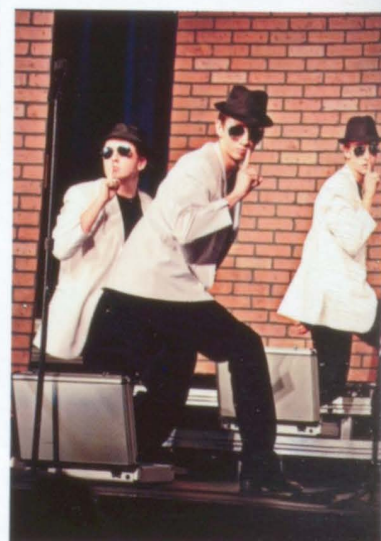

Right: Junior Meghan Niegoda performs the solo in "Gold Member," a song that highlights a change. The girls began the number wearing black dresses. They revealed their gold dresses, which represented a change in character.

Above: Senior Tanner Larson sings "Secret Agent Man," the number that shows the boys have made a change not only in costume but also in attitude.

Top right: Senior Jack Mahon is one of the five soloists in "Man in the Mirror." Senior Matthew Miller, sophomore Marshall Peters, and juniors Elliott Marxen and Michael Miller were also featured.

Bottom Right: At this point in the show, the boys reveal their sly sides. Props -including briefcases, hats, sunglasses and brick walls- were used to engage the audience and to enhance the message that was sent.

Left: In the opener "Welcome to the Jungle" the performers establish their tough exteriors by threatening the audience.

SPORTS

Wildcat athletes don't just show up to earn points. We prepare to dominate at game time, thriving by earning conference and section championships, earning state tournament berths, and setting new school records. The Wright County Conference and the Minnesota State High School League recognize our athletes for their individual accomplishments and for their contributions to their teams.

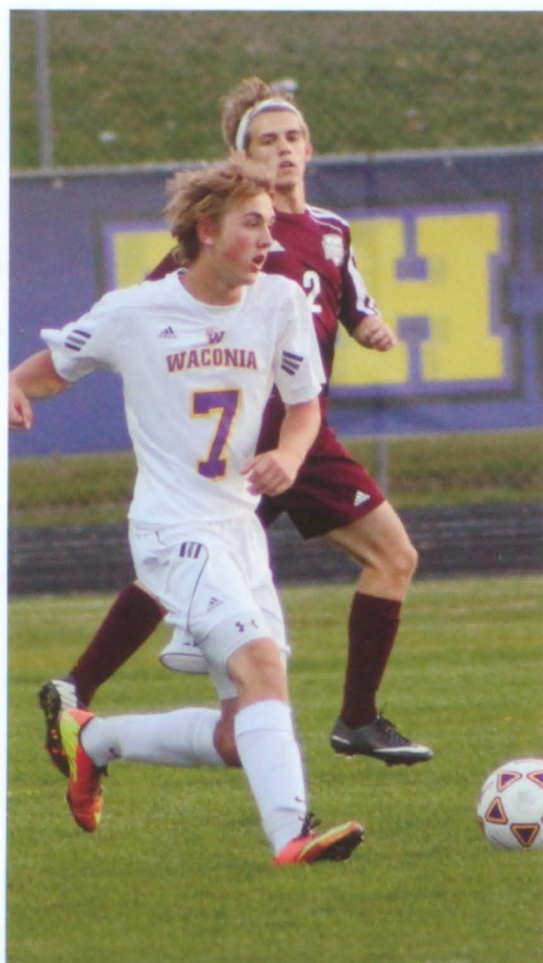

Prosperous Season

Team makes consecutive appearance at state, places third

Above: Junior Charles Stevenson kicks the ball to an open teammate during a game against Hutchinson. The Wildcats defeated the Tigers 4-0. Stevenson scored two goals this season.

Right: Senior Mason Tuttle dribbles down the field, maintaining possession against Southwest Christian's Braden Sandvig. Tuttle scored four goals this season.

Left: Seniors James Nash, Marcel Montiel, and juniors Truen Breeggemann and Austin Bruggeman huddle before beginning state tournament play. This season, the team scored 69 goals, while goalies John Rogers and Jack Dimberger allowed only 14 goals to be scored against the Wildcats.

Left: Senior Charlie Spurbeck is defending the ball from getting down the field against Hill-Murray's Andy Munkelwitz. Spurbeck and Nash were team captains this season.

2013 Accomplishments

James Nash was named All-Conference and was selected as a member of the Minnesota State High School League Class A All-Tournament Team.

Marcel Montiel was named All-Conference and Post Season Forward MVP.

Mason Tuttle was selected All-Conference.

Kevin Kittleson earned All-Conference honors and was named Regular Season Defensive MVP.

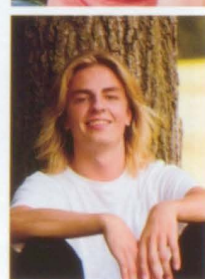

Charlie Spurbeck was named Wright All-Conference, Team MVP, and Regular Season Mid-Field MVP. He scored twelve goals this season and had seven assists.

John Rogers was named All-Conference. He played in eighteen games and made 98 saves.

Nikolas Bohman was named to the Minnesota State High School League Class A Tournament Team and was named Post Season Defensive MVP.

Jessica Wolf was named All State Honorable Mention, All-Conference and given the C.A.T. award.

Anna Schmitt was named All-Conference.

Kirsten Wagener was named All-Conference and was given the Wildcat Award.

Julia Allenson was named the Most Improved Honorable Mention and was given the Wildcat Award.

Makayla Williams was named Most Improved and was given the Wildcat Award.

Jenna VanDeVelde was named All-Conference Honorable Mention and was given the Wildcat Award.

Team Awards

Right: Senior Kirsten Wagener attempts to single block the ball while juniors Jessica Wolf, Lauren Brettingen, and Anna Schmitt defend. This season, Wagener led the team in blocks with 79.

Right: Sophomore Makayla Williams goes for a kill while junior Madelynn Lage, Taylor Wolf, Anna Schmitt and Samantha Paulson cover. The Wildcats finished the season with a 23-8 record.

Right: Against Litchfield, Jessica Wolf hits the ball while junior Kia Pankey, Samantha Paulson, junior Jordyn Goldschmidt, Anna Schmitt and freshman Taylor Wolf cover. Jessica Wolf had 388 kills this season and was the team's leading ace server. The Wildcats had a 9-1 conference record, finishing second in the conference.

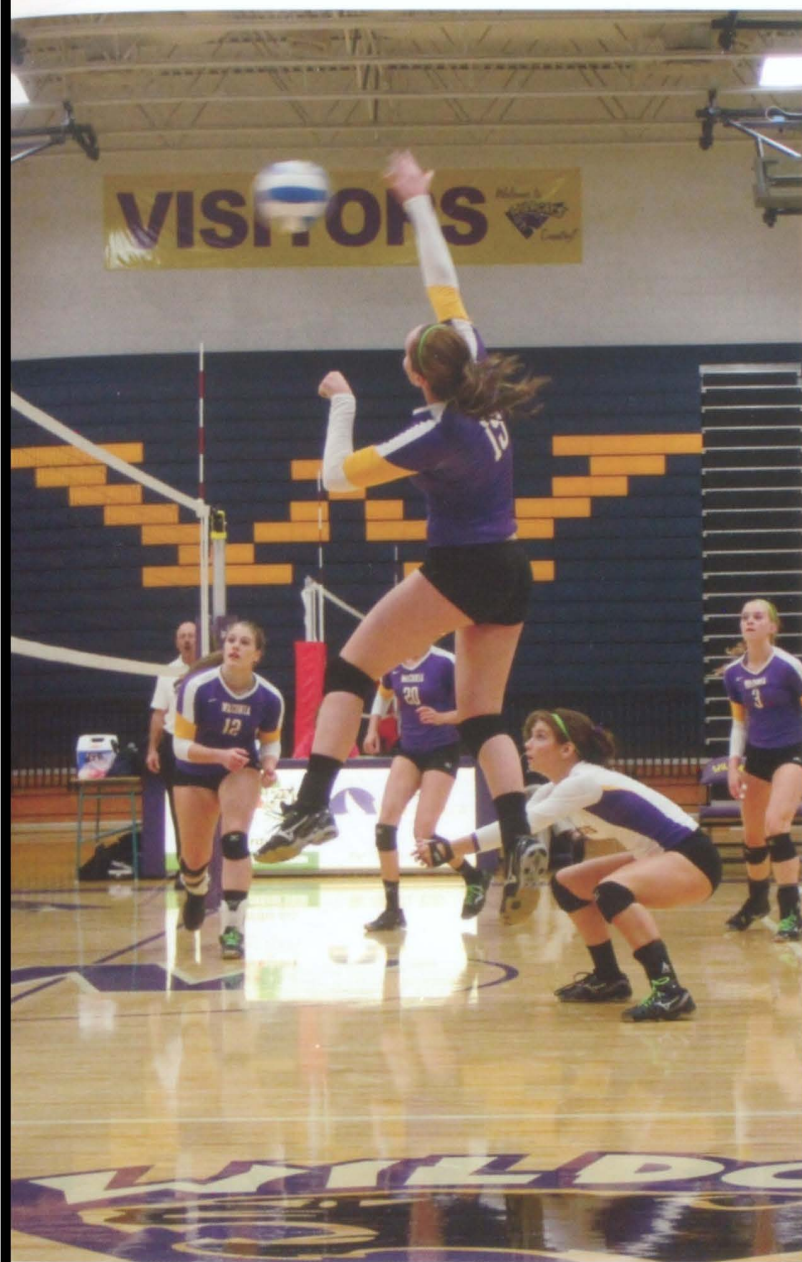

Above: Teammates celebrate after their side out. The team had some big wins this season. They defeated Bethlehem Academy, the 2013 Class A state champion, finished fourth at the Southwest Minnesota Challenge tournament, had at least three wins at tournaments, and upset Prior Lake in section play. Right: While Taylor Wolf goes for a kill, Samantha Paulson, Anna Schmitt, Lauren Brettingen, and Kia Pankey cover. Paulson had 343 digs this season. Schmitt holds the school record for most career assists with 1,964, and she still has her senior season to play.

Growing as One

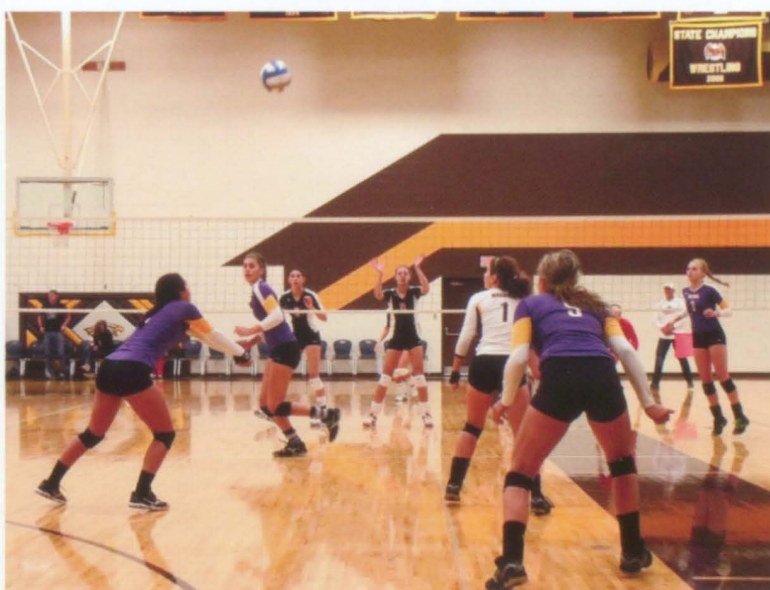

Team wins eleven straight,
faces strong competition

Above: Senior Julia Allenson digs the ball. In the section semifinals against Delano, she had seven digs.

Below: Against Marshall, Kirsten Wagener attacks the ball while Samantha Paulson covers her. The teams faced one another at the Southwest Minnesota Challenge tournament. The Wildcats finished fourth at the tournament, their highest finish ever, at this event. They defeated Southwestern United, Owatonna and Wayzata before losing to Chaska, who was ranked No. 1 in Class AAA, and Marshall, who was ranked No. 1 in Class AA.

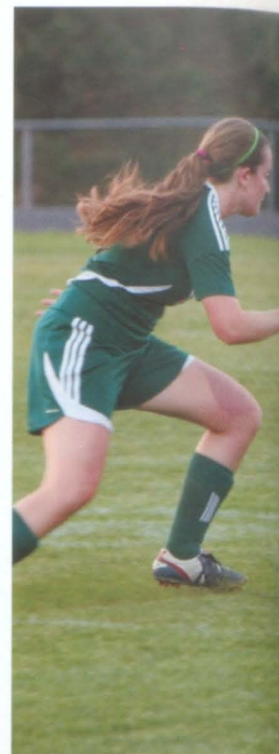

Above: Kia Pankey defends the serve receive from Chaska while Jessica Wolf, Schmitt, Paulson, and senior Rozlyn Holasek transition into offense. The Hawks defeated the Wildcats, but according to Pankey, "Losing to prestigious teams teaches you how to beat prestigious teams. You analyze each play and figure out a different approach. You also learn cool plays and techniques."

Below: Senior Mackenzie Hedlund punts the ball to her teammates after stopping a shot on goal.

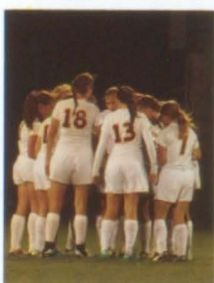

Below: Senior Jacelyn Zapf rushes past Hutchinson's Carlie Goranowski. Zapf was awarded the leadership award by the coaches and was named All-Conference.

Right: Junior Katrina Rinke and senior Emily Hilk celebrate a goal with a hip bump. The teammates did this every time a goal was scored. They ended the season 12-6-1, which allowed them plenty of opportunities to celebrate.

Flourish on the Field

Team advances to section semifinals

Right: Senior Samantha Laumann gets ready to pass the ball to a teammate in the game against Mound. In section play against Breck, Laumann scored one goal in the 5-3 win, helping her team to advance to the section semifinal game against Orono. This was the first time that a Waconia girls soccer team reached the section semifinals. Their season ended with a loss to Orono.

Below: Senior Emily Hilk keeps the ball away from a Hutchinson defender. Hilk scored once in the game as the Wildcats defeated Hutchinson 4-0.

Mackenzie Hedlund was an All-Conference Honorable Mention recipient. She also received the Newcomer Award.

Emily Hilk was named All-Conference and received the Outstanding Attacker award.

Katrina Rinke was named All-Conference and received the Outstanding Defender award.

Thriving Players

Left: Claire Sites leaps for a header in the game against the Watertown Royals. The team won the game 2-1. They finished the conference schedule with a 9-2-1 record, finishing second in the Wright County Conference. This was the highest finish in team history.

Bailey Breeggemann received the Legacy Award and was named All-Conference.

Left: Senior Bailey Breeggemann carries the ball up the field. Breeggemann was a team co-captain this year, along with Jacelyn Zapf. They were responsible for setting up captain's practices during the off-season.

Below: Junior Micalene Aslakson runs within a pack of junior varsity girls at Buffalo. While Aslakson did not run varsity at this meet, she did at three other meets.

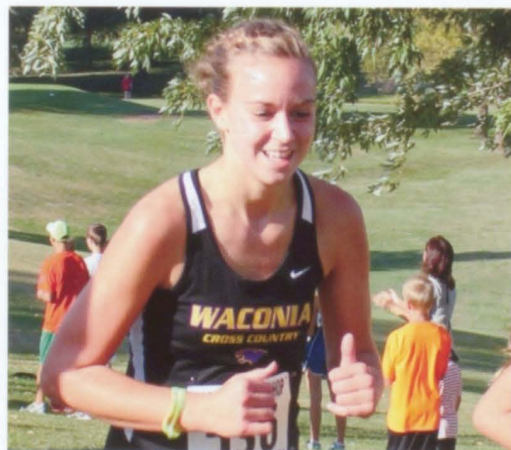

Right: Senior Abby Kalenberg navigates the park course. Kalenberg said, "Gilbert taught me that running is great whether you're super fast or barely moving. Either way, you're running."

Senior Personal Records

Right: Senior Kortney Luedloff manages to keep her smile as she runs up a tough hill at Buffalo. Luedloff said that she loved being a senior because she could tell that a lot of the younger runners were watching her. This made her watch that she always smiled and taught them to enjoy running.

Right: Senior Alexis Willems leads the race at Baylor Park while seniors Ryan Boll, David Hughes and Holly Thomas cheer her on from the sidelines. This was one of several races where Willems finished first. She had been running on the varsity team since her first race as a seventh grader. This year she went to state for her third time and finished 93rd.

Right: Junior Alora Rands runs through a pack of cheering fans at Baylor Park. Finishing with a time of 16:23, Rands was the second Waconia girl to finish at this meet.

Below: Junior Mikaela Kauma takes long strides to take advantage of the downhill finish at this meet. The team frequently worked on properly running down hills since so many courses had hills.

Left: Senior Katherine Jensen sprints to the finish line at Baylor Park. Team members said that coach Christian Gilbert was always a great motivator. He would always hide somewhere on the course offering tips and motivational comments. Jensen said Gilbert never gave up on her and always managed to push her to do her best.

Achieving Goals

Above: Freshman Jack Kappel hits the 2.5 mile mark on the Buffalo course. At this race, Kappel ran a time of 20:14.

Right: Senior Anthony Fulkerson keeps his focus as he makes his first lap on the Chaska course. He finished just thirteen seconds behind Carrabre at this meet.

Above: Junior Taylor Kray keeps pace with a Dassel-Cokato runner at Chaska. This meet was the second largest of the season and the boys faced 21 other teams. The Montgomery meet was the largest with 27 teams competing.
Left: Freshman Zachary Hennen rounds his second lap on the course. His season goal was to run varsity at every meet. Hennen achieved this goal.

Left: Sophomore Alexander Carrabre competes for the lead of a group of runners. This was his first year on the team, and he showed great potential from the start. After consistently improving throughout the season, he qualified for state. Carrabre is the first boy to go to state since 1998 when Ben Berndt qualified.

Left: Sophomore Travis Kray runs on the Chaska course, which is on a golfing green, making it very open and flat. Many boys earned their personal best times on this course.

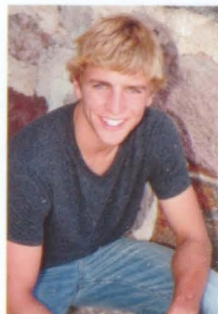

Left: Sophomore Joshua Rands uses his arms to propel him in his sprint to the finish. Rands, a fourth year member, was able to use his prior knowledge of the course to his advantage.

Right: Seniors Cole Sawyer, Charles Frempong-Longdon, Hunter Baumann, coach Sam Baker, and honorary captain Tate Mauer lead the Wildcats to Meuwissen Stadium to face the Hutchinson Tigers. This was the first year of Wildcat Walks, a way to join the team and community and rally the team.

Right: Hunter Baumann runs to make a touchdown as junior Royce Marker, senior Joseph Francen, Roch Whittaker and senior Jesse Vogelgesang block. Baumann said that F.A.M.I.L.Y. stands for "Forget About Me, I Love You" and means "No matter what, someone else has your back."

Right: Joseph Francen, junior Zachary Christians, junior Cody Meyer, and junior Kevin Logelin get ready to kickoff to Holy Family at their Homecoming game. The Wildcats defeated the Fire 17-10. Francen was given the Special Teams MVP award and said, "I had the best season of my high school career."

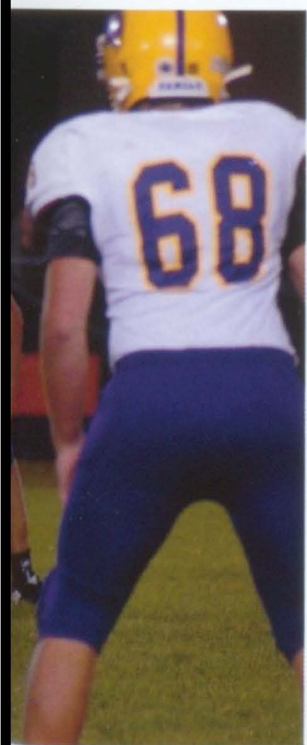

Brand New Charge

Team begins new traditions

Above: Sam Baker and quarterback junior Chad Storley discuss play options during the Holy Family game. "The Holy Family game was my favorite," said Storley. "We played through a storm delay and ruined their Homecoming."

Above: Coach Baker rallies senior Casey Karels, senior Tyler Myrvold, Hunter Baumann, Kellen Ruotsinoja, Zachary Sinnen, Joseph Francen, Jesse Vogelgesang, and Elijah Teeselink. "We would obviously like to have more wins," said Baker. "But this season went a long way in helping establish the type of culture we want." Right: Nicholas Hukriede and Cole Sawyer charge through the Wildcat tunnel. The tunnel was one of the new additions this year and was used at every home game.

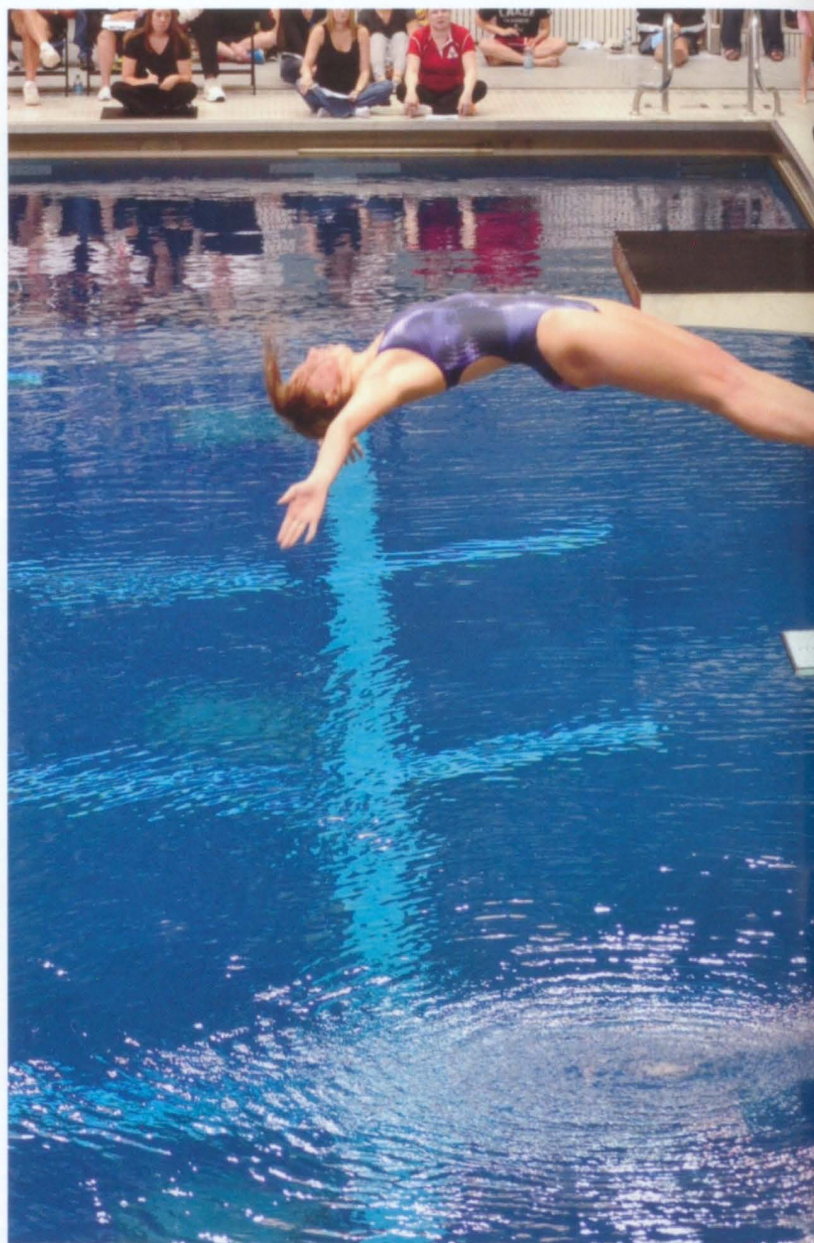

Left: Against Litchfield, junior Harley Ruiz mounts the starting block prior to the beginning of the 200 freestyle. She finished fourth while teammates Mariahna Jorgenson-Rathke and Megan Schuler finished second and third. The Wildcats won 120-66, a key victory since they tied the Dragons in 2012. Below: Senior Abigail Wessale competes in the 100 fly at the section meet. The top two individuals in each race, the top relay team, and the top five divers advanced to the state meet.

Right: The 400 free relay team of Rachael Sanborn, Kathryn Stangret, freshman Emma Lohman, and sophomore Marri Saunders gets pumped before the race against St. Peter. The meet came down to this one event. The team's second place finish earned four points, giving the Wildcats a 93-92 win over the Saints.

Below: Senior Mariahna Jorgenson-Rathke takes a breather after her race. Against Mound-Westonka/Holy Family, she finished fourth in the 500 free.

Splash of Life

Team reaches goals, keeps winning in mind

Left: Twenty members of the team competed at the Section 3A meet in Willmar. To qualify for sections, a diver had to earn a score above 140 points at least two times during the season. Swimmers had to meet a qualifying time at least once throughout the season.

Below: Senior Rachael Sanborn swims her leg of the 400 free relay at the Wright County Conference meet in Hutchinson. The Wildcats finished sixth at conference with 254.5 points.

Junior McKinna Kahl was named All-Conference.

Taylor Beynon was named All-Conference and earned the team's High Point award.

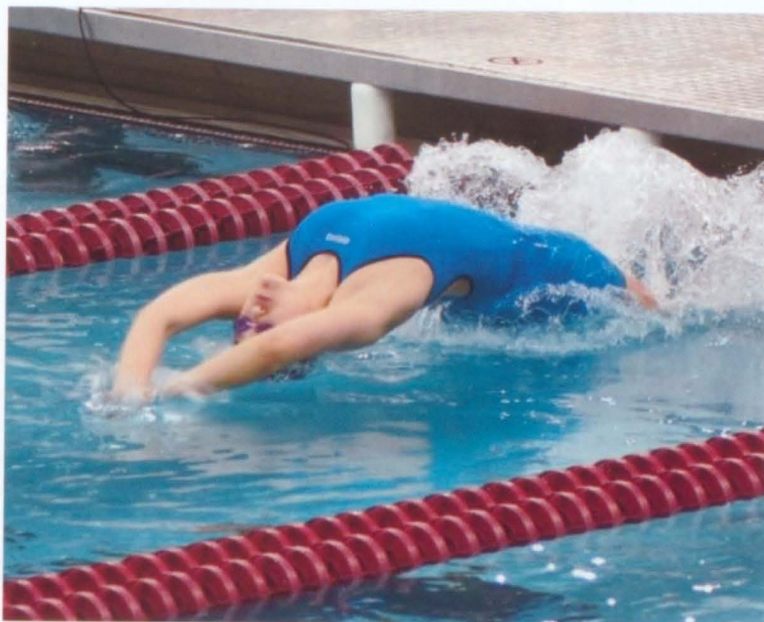

Sophomore Jessica Stangret was an All-Conference selection.

Sophomore Carolyn Schmieg earned All-Conference honors.

Left: At the state meet, sophomore Jessica Stangret arches her back during the airborne phase of her takeoff in the 100 meter backstroke. Stangret, a three-time state entrant, finished fourth at state. During the season, she also swam the 200 free and two other relays.

Left: Junior Taylor Beynon swam in two events at the state meet - the 200 individual medley and the 500 freestyle. She finished twelfth in the 200 and ninth in the 500. This was Beynon's second appearance at state. She qualified for the 2012 state meet and swam in the 200 individual medley.

Left: At the state meet, senior Nicole Hennen completes her back dive in the straight position. She was the first Waconia High School diver ever to make the state finals, and she finished twelfth overall with a score of 270.05, a personal best.

Making Waves

Leading the Charge

Cheerleaders motivate players and fans to the fullest

Right: The squad performs a shoulder sit with new signs while chanting "We Say Purple" with the crowd during the football game against New London-Spicer. This cheer has been a fan favorite for many years.

Below: Junior Amanda Oelfke, senior captain Sierrah Bjerke, junior Shannon McGee and junior co-captains Stephanie Borka, and Taylor Reuther promote the squad's car wash at Mackenthun's. They raised money for new uniforms and camps for the 2014 season.

Above: At the Southview Homecoming Pep Fest, Taylor Reuther performs a clip jump during the school song. She learned a life lesson through cheerleading: getting along with others on a team.

Middle Right: The squad and the Vikings cheerleaders pose next to the fire truck right before the Wildcat Walk. The Vikings cheerleaders appeared at the first home football game. The Waconia cheerleaders' role during the Wildcat Walks is to get fans and families to support the team and show their spirit.

Above: Taylor Reuther, Amanda Oelfke, Stephanie Borka, and Sierrah Bjerke throw up a prep stunt as they warm up for the home game against Hutchinson. This was Oelfke's first year stunting and being tossed in the air as a flyer.

Above: Senior captain Taylor DeLacy knows a cheerleader's job: "We promote school spirit and get the fans and the football players pumped up."

Promoting Action

Super Fans radiate their spirit

Middle Right: At the boys basketball section finals against Holy Family, junior Kevin Logelin enviously eyes junior Nicholas Heenie's turtle floaty as junior Hayden Meyer stands by. Student Council created the theme "Summer Beach Day" and it carried on into the exciting game. Student Council's goal was to celebrate the end of the trimester and to rebel against the cold wintery snow. The Super Fans decided to keep this theme for the March 6 game.

Above: Juniors Kelsey Bach and Brittany Galt, and senior Shawn McHale perform with their pep band at the very first white out football game. The band played fan-favorites like "Eye of the Tiger."

Above: Willy the Wildcat digs into his new garbage can full of props to get the crowd rowdy. The can was filled with pom-poms, jump ropes, flowers, hats, and more for Willy to entertain the crowd during breaks.

Right: Senior Thomas Gove jumps and tries to keep the ball in play against Mound Westonka. The Wildcats won 76-45 and picked up a conference victory against the White Hawks with Gove contributing ten points. He also led the team in assists, finishing the season with 129.

Below: In the final seconds of the game, sophomore Joseph Kortuem beats the full court press against the Bloomington Kennedy Eagles. A close contest, the Wildcats held on for a 73-71 win.

Right: Senior Michael Vigil takes an outside shot against Bloomington Kennedy. Vigil had 24 points against the Eagles, scoring 22 of his points in the second half of the game. In the section championship against Holy Family, he put up 21 points, including five three-pointers.

Right: Junior Roch Whittaker drives to the basket in the opening round of section play against the Blake Bears. Whittaker ended the game with twelve points and eight rebounds. The Wildcats won 66-46 and advanced to face Benilde-St. Margaret, whom the Wildcats also defeated 69-60.

Right: Senior Ryan Boll dunks the ball after a successful break away against Hutchinson's Marcus Hahn. Boll netted his 1,000th career point in the first half of the game, and the team won 68-59.

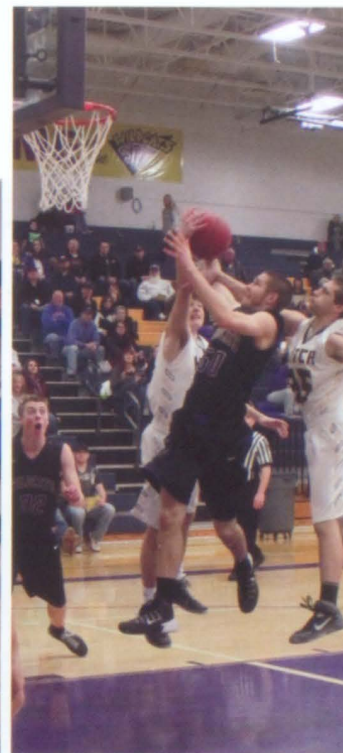

Accomplishments

Jacob Herd was named All-Conference.

Thomas Gove was named All-Conference.

Ryan Boll was named All-Conference and finished his career with 1,083 points, the fourth highest scorer in team history.

Below: Senior Jacob Herd dribbles the ball down the court in the game against Richfield, a team the Wildcats defeated 79-68. Herd averaged 12.3 points per game and finished the season with 344 points. The Wildcats finished 19-9 overall, and this was the tenth consecutive season with at least 17 wins. It was also the sixth time in nine years that the team has advanced to the section championship.

Left : Senior Tyler Myrvold gets fouled as he drives to the basketball against New London-Spicer. Waconia won 79-59. The Wildcats ended their conference play with a 11-3 record, good for third place behind Orono and Holy Family.

Left: Junior Oliver Smith uses his 6'8 frame to contest a shot against the Hutchinson Tigers. In the section championship game, Smith blocked four shots. This season, Smith had 33 blocks and 96 rebounds, including 72 defensive rebounds.

Below: Coach Patrick Hayes details an offensive play during a 30 second time out.

Shoot for Excellence

Boys set high standards, try to maintain precedent

Fifth-highest scoring team in national history

Recording Setting Season

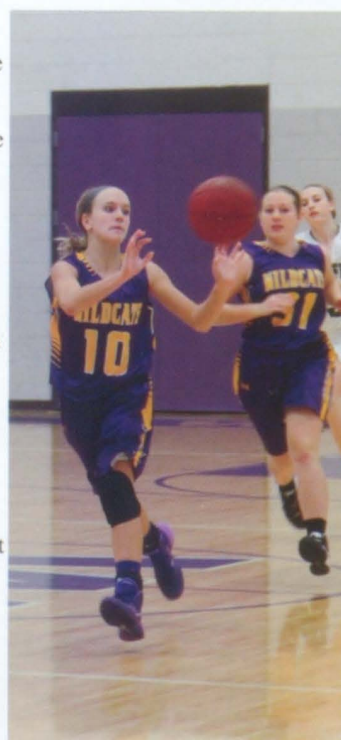

Above: Head coach Carl Pierson addresses team play during a timeout against Glencoe-Silver Lake. The game went into overtime, and the 'Cats put up 122 points. The Panthers put up 115 in a game that was the highest scoring girls' game in state history.

Right: Sophomore guard Madelin Dammann looks to put up a shot against Holy Family. She was the team's second highest leading scorer this season with 339 points.

Right: Sophomore Megan Kirsch receives the ball as she nears the top of the key. This season, the Wildcats averaged 92.4 points per game, which is a Minnesota state record. They are also the fifth highest scoring team in national history.

Left: Junior Kendall Eder drives through for a lay up against Hutchinson. The Wildcats lost 103-100, but they made a season-high 16 three-point shots. Eder netted 157 points this season and grabbed 32 steals.

Left: Senior Samantha Laumann runs part of the offense against Hutchinson. She had knee surgery during her junior year and showed great leadership and the ability to come back after injury. The team ended its season 10-16 overall and finished fifth in the conference with a 5-10 record. Still, the team made 325 three-pointers, second all-time in national history.

Left: Senior Kaylee Vanderhoff takes a jump shot from three-point range against Litchfield. Vanderhoff blocked seven shots in this game, and the Wildcats defeated the Dragons 102-72. This season, she had 49 blocks, 145 rebounds, 45 steals and put up 183 points.

Individual Achievements

Anna Schmitt was named All-Conference and was named Class AAA All-State by the Minnesota Girls Basketball Coaches Association.

Miranda Schultz was an All-Conference Honorable Mention selection.

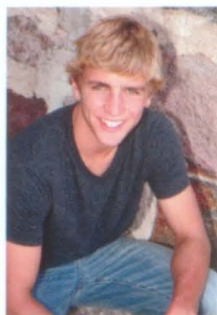

Madeline Dammann was an All-Conference Honorable Mention selection.

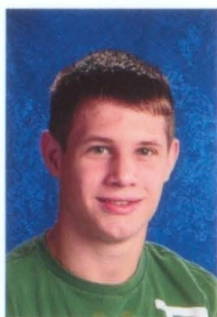

Above: Senior Miranda Schultz goes up for a shot against Litchfield. She scored 20 points in this game. Schultz put up 276 points this season, pulled down 94 rebounds, and had 64 steals.

Left: Junior Anna Schmitt makes her way to the basket. Her season highlights included scoring 775 points, including scoring her 1000th career point; grabbing 95 steals; and dishing out 148 assists. Schmitt is one of six Wildcats in the team's 40-year history to score 1000 points. She also had several triple-doubles this season and narrowly missed a quadruple-double in the game against Litchfield.

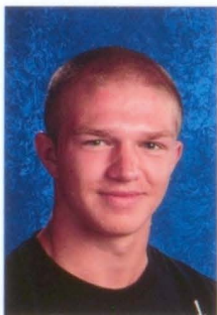

Senior Jacob Steinbauer was named All-Conference and set the school record for career wins with 166. He was also named team MVP.

Junior Nicholas Green was named All-Conference and received the Wildcat Wrestler of the Year award.

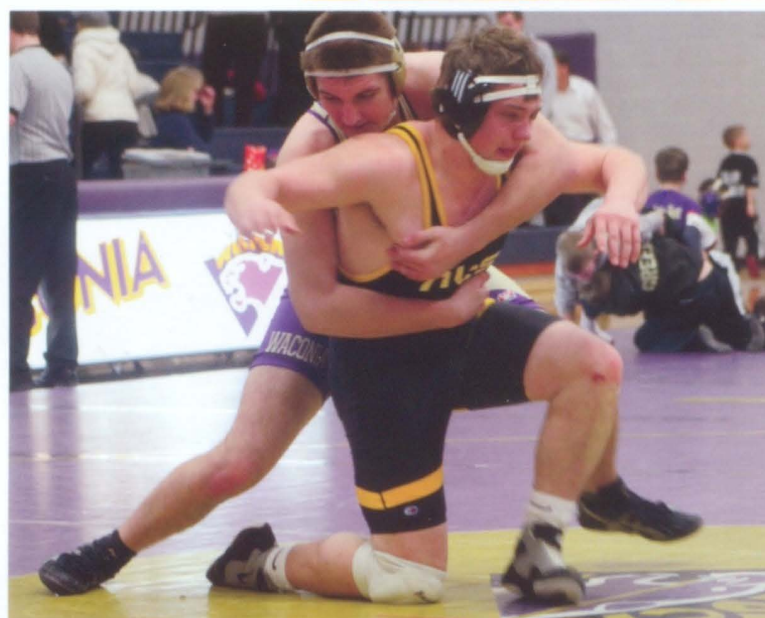

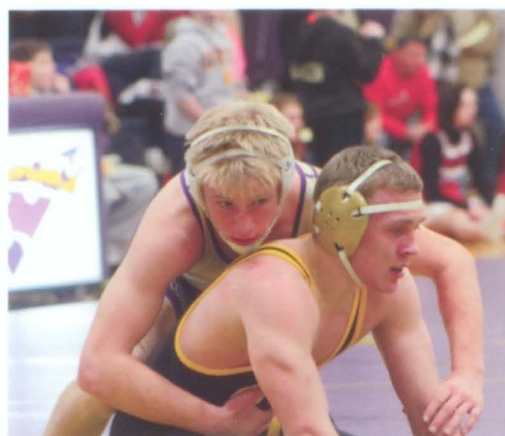

Joshua Reich received the Mr. Hustle award.

Sophomore Owen Hemze was named All-Conference and earned his 75th win.

Accomplishments

Right: Sophomore Jedrek Waligoski awaits the whistle that starts the period. He earned his 50th win at the Mound-Westonka Invitational. Waligoski received the team award for Most Improved.

Right: Marking new periods, Zachary Buffington attempts to keep down his New-London Spicer opponent. Buffington finished the year with a 24-15 record.

Above: Freshman Dylan Gluck takes a step towards his Watertown-Mayer/Mayer Lutheran opponent in an attempt to throw him. On this night, the Wildcats participated in an event for Randy Shaver's Take Down for Cancer Association. For each successful Wildcat take down, five dollars was donated to this cause. The team raised nearly $900.

Right: Jacob Steinbauer is about to perform his signature move, the cradle. This year marked his third state tournament appearance, and he placed third in the 145 weight class. Steinbauer was the first wrestler to place at state since 2009.

Right: Sophomore Owen Hemze lifts and returns his opponent down to the mat. Waconia defeated New-London Spicer 32-27. Hemze placed third in the Section 2AA individual tournament, and he was named a 2014-2015 captain.

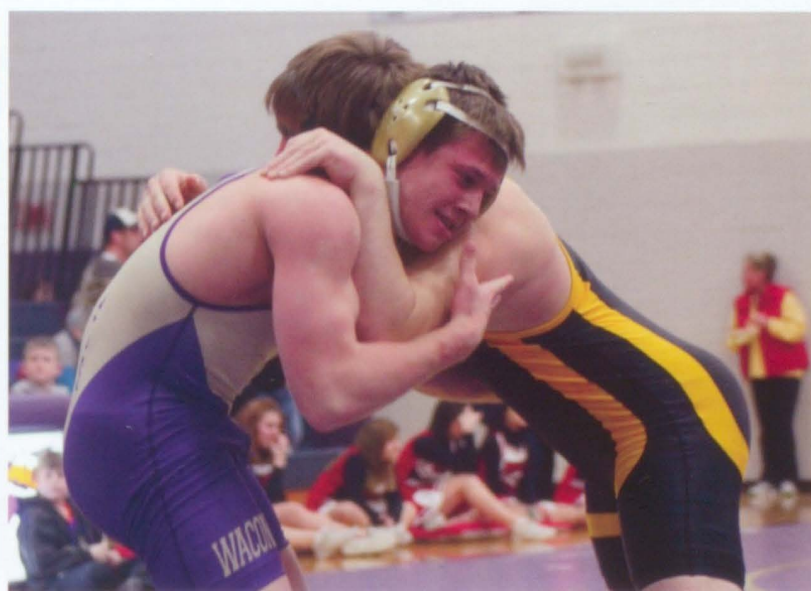

Team reaches section semifinals
for first time in six years

Climbing to the Top

Above: Sophomore Joshua Reich attempts to turn his opponent onto his back. At a nationally recognized tournament, Rumble on the Red in Fargo, the Wildcats finished 40th out of 69 teams, finishing with 45 points.

Left: Junior Elijah Teeselink attacks his Hutchinson opponent in an attempt to overpower him and take him down. Teeselink placed third at the Section 2AA individual tournament.

Above: Nicholas Green hand fights for position. A season highlight for Green happened when he pinned a Chaska opponent in sixteen seconds, his fastest pin of the season.

Right: Freshman Justin Schultz finishes a takedown of his opponent which earns him two points. In tournaments, the Wildcats finished in the top three four times.

Below Left: Senior Kevin Kittleson knocks a Delano Tiger out of the way in his fight for the puck. Kittleson finished the season with three goals, seven assists and ten points.

Below: Senior forward Blaine Wilsey keeps a Bloomington Kennedy Eagle pinned and away from the puck. Senior Sam Schiffman scored a goal late in the second period with Wilsey and senior Tony Fulkerson getting the assists.

Right: Senior Jeffery Balow forces a Hutchinson Tiger against the boards as they scramble for control of the puck. Junior Collin Reus scored two goals while senior Alex Fortwengler and sophomore Mitchell Weiland each scored a goal.

Below: Senior captain Alexander Tryon-Tasson handles the puck while looking to pass. He scored goals in games against Shakopee and Chaska and had an assist against Red Wing.

Game Changers

Boys score twenty-one goals in two games

Left: Sophomore Mitchell Weiland skates out of a Litchfield Dragon's reach. Weiland had 21 points this season scoring nine goals and getting twelve assists.

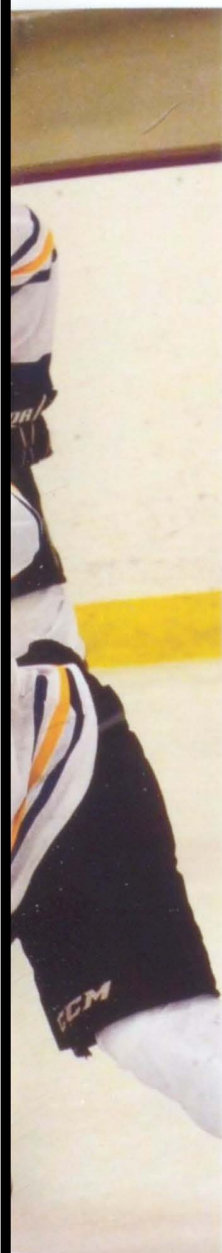

Below: Senior forward Samuel Schiffman clears the puck away from a New Ulm Eagle. Schiffman had nine points this season by getting two assists and scoring seven goals, including a goal against St. Louis Park in the opening round of section play. The Wildcats defeated the Orioles 4-3 and advanced to face Breck.

Senior Kevin Kittleson was named All-Conference honorable mention. He was also named the Most Valuable Defenseman.

Junior Austin Nichols was named the Most Improved Player.

Left: Junior Mathew Fulkerson shows his skillful stick handling abilities. He finished the season with twelve goals and sixteen assists. He scored two goals and had one assist in the game against Richfield.

Senior Blaine Wilsey was named the Unsung Hero of the Season.

Junior Collin Reus was named All-Conference. He was also named the Most Valuable player.

Left: Senior Steven LaDouceur stops a shot on goal. In the season opener against Red Wing, LaDouceur saved 20 of 21 shots, and the Wildcats won 7-1. He earned a shut out against Lake of the Woods, preventing all 26 shots on goal. This season, LaDouceur spent 737 minutes in goal and had a .865 save percentage.

Team Awards

Junior Mathew Fulkerson was named All-Conference Honorable Mention. He was also named the Most Valuable Forward.

Left: During a face off, junior Collin Reus clashes for the puck with a Litchfield Dragon while freshman Jack Kalenberg looks to move the puck up the ice. The team finished with a 10-16-1 record, finishing 3-8-1 in the Wright County Conference.

Right: Sophomore Alexandra Hartmann makes a save. She played 1133 minutes this season and had a save percentage of .883. Hartmann also had two shut outs, a 7-0 victory against Litchfield/Dassel-Cokato and a 3-0 victory over St. Paul United.

The Wildfire finished the season 13-12-1, finishing second in the Wright County Conference with a 6-2 record. Defeating conference rival Mound-Westonka was a season goal, and the Wildfire defeated the White Hawks twice this season.

Above: Senior Jamie Kichler moves the puck out of the Wildfire's zone. This season, she scored four goals and got thirteen assists.

Shania Gonzalez was named All-Conference Honorable Mention.

Jamie Kichler was named All-Conference Honorable Mention.

Alexandra Hartmann was named All-Conference Honorable Mention.

2013-2014 Accomplishments

Above: The Wildfire fight for possession of the puck during a face off against the Chaska/Chanhassen Storm Hawks. The teams played twice this season with Chaska/Chanhassen winning both contests, including a 1-2 overtime victory and a 2-4 victory in the opening round of section play.

Above: Sophomore Allyson Marrs stick handles the puck. She got three assists this season.

Right: Junior Meghan Burmeister steps up and knocks the puck off the opposing girl's stick, stopping the rush down the ice. She got assists against South St. Paul, Litchfield-Dassel-Cokato, and Mound.

Below: Senior Shania Gonzales takes a wrist shot as she warms up before a game. Gonzales and Jamie Kichler were two of the team's captains this season. In the third period against New Ulm, Gonzales scored a goal during a power play. She also got an assist when teammate Megan Menzuber scored her third goal of the night. The Wildfire won the game 5-1 and outshot New Ulm 46-15.

Left: Sophomore Makayla Williams gets the puck and looks to regroup. Williams scored the final goal in a 7-2 win over Hutchinson, which was the Wildfire's second conference victory for the week. The team had 46 shots on goal.

Below: The team huddles together for a pre-game talk. Off the ice, team bonding activities included sleep overs, team meals, and staying in a hotel during a tournament. The girls also bagged groceries at Mackenthun's and challenged their coaches to a scrimmage.

Dance Perfect

Right: Junior Kennedy Peitz performs a turned out double turn. Judges evaluated her technique, especially foot and body placement. The jazz routine was choreographed to the song, "Jealous of the Angels," composed and sung by 2004 alumna Jenn Bostic.

2013 Accomplishments

Left: Sophomore Melanie Bloudek performs an attitude leap, which consists of two chaine turns and a leap. The jazz team placed first out of six teams at the Prior Lake Invitational. Throughout the season, coaches and teammates would meet and watch videos of performances and modify the dance prior to the next competition.

Left: Seniors Marissa Wiggert, Anna Keidel, and juniors Kennedy Peitz and Jennifer Pannier perform open turns at the conference competition. The team finished fourth in jazz. They also placed fourth at the section competition.

Anna Keidel was named All-Conference.

Brooke Danielson earned the Outstanding Rookie team award.

Rachel Shirk was named All-Conference and was given the Outstanding Dancer and Leader team award.

Sophomore Jordanna Shea was named Most Improved Dancer.

Kennedy Peitz was named All-Conference and given the Most Dedicated Dancer team award.

Above: The junior varsity and varsity high kick and jazz squads perform to a musical mix during the halftime show at the Homecoming game.

Left: Marissa Wiggert, Kennedy Peitz, Madeline Homer, Melanie Bloudek and Emily Shaw perform a toe rise, a move in which a dancer uses her core strength to arch her back and propel herself up on to the front of her foot.

Gabriella Hommer received All-Conference and All-State Honorable Mention for vault, beam, floor, and AA. She was named the most valuable gymnast.

Accomplishments

Abbigail Fahrenkamp received All-Conference and All-State Honorable Mention for vault, beam, and floor. She was named the most dedicated gymnast.

Ravenrenee Concagh Blount received All-Conference Honorable Mention.

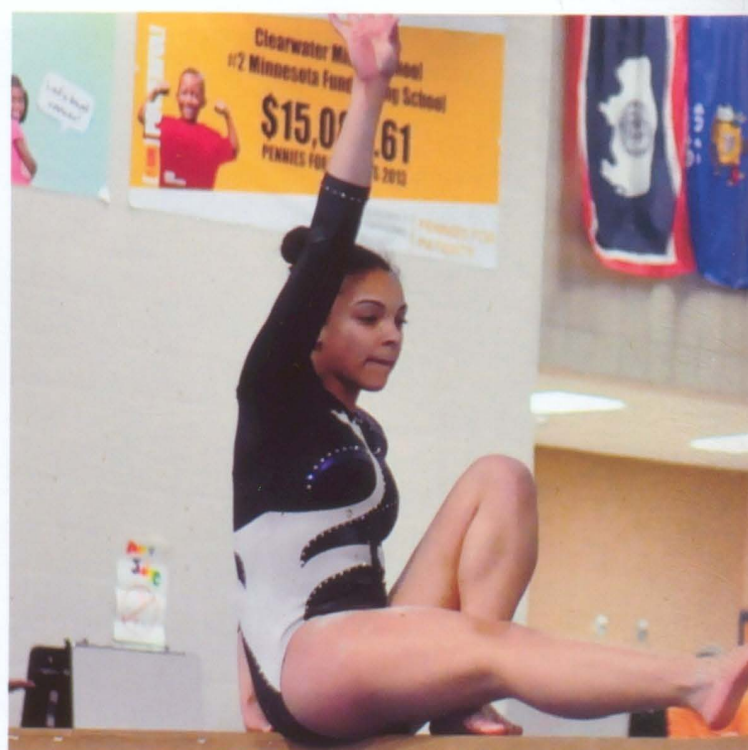

Right: Head coach Molly Oscarson spots Ravenrenee Concagh Blount as she performs a back handspring on the beam. Concagh Blount learned and added this new skill in her routine to add additional difficulty and earn higher point values.

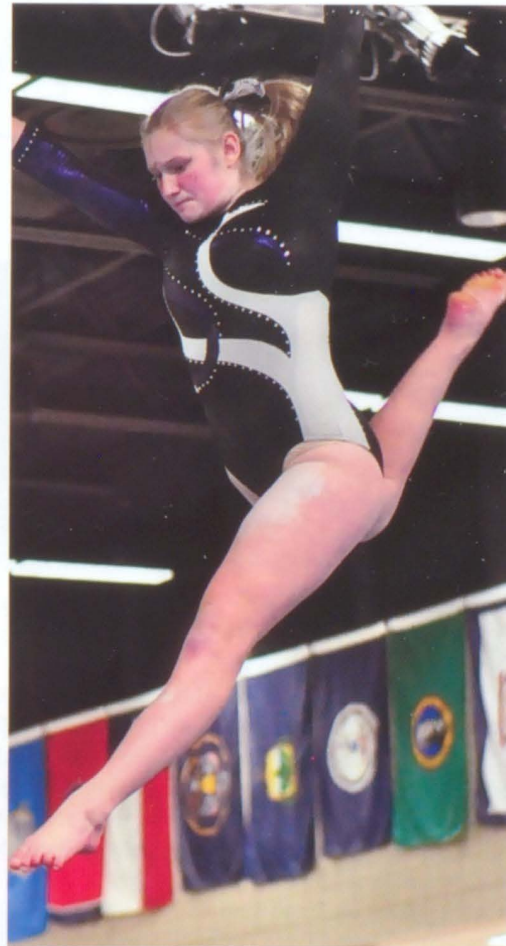

Above: Gabriella Hommer leaps into her first skill on bars, a straddle kip. This is a maneuver used by a gymnast as a way to begin a routine on the uneven bars.

Right: Freshman Ravenrenee Concagh Blount strikes a pose during her beam routine. Concagh Blount learned a life lesson during this season: "To never give up and keep on pushing, and working until you get your goal."

Right: Sophomore and captain Gabriella Hommer performs her beam routine at a home meet. She finished second at the Section 2A meet after earning a 9.525. She competed at the Class A individual state tournament finishing with a total average score of 8.175.

Gymnasts reach new heights Alive and Flippin'

Above: Ravenrenee Concagh Blount springs from the low bar to the high bar. Concagh Blount took second place on bars with her best score of the season, 8.325, against Dassel-Cokato.

Left: Abbigail Fahrenkamp leaps into the splits on the beam. Fahrenkamp's favorite event is beam because it requires grace, concentration, and balance.

Above: Sophomore and captain Abbigail Fahrenkamp strikes a pose during her upbeat floor routine. She scored a 8.95, earning second place at the meet against Dassel-Cokato.

Right: Gabriella Hommer springs into a double twist on her first place vault run. Hommer received her highest score, a 9.175, at the Glencoe-Silver Lake meet.

{THRIVE}

Flourishing strongly and vigorously by your own matter or by the help of others

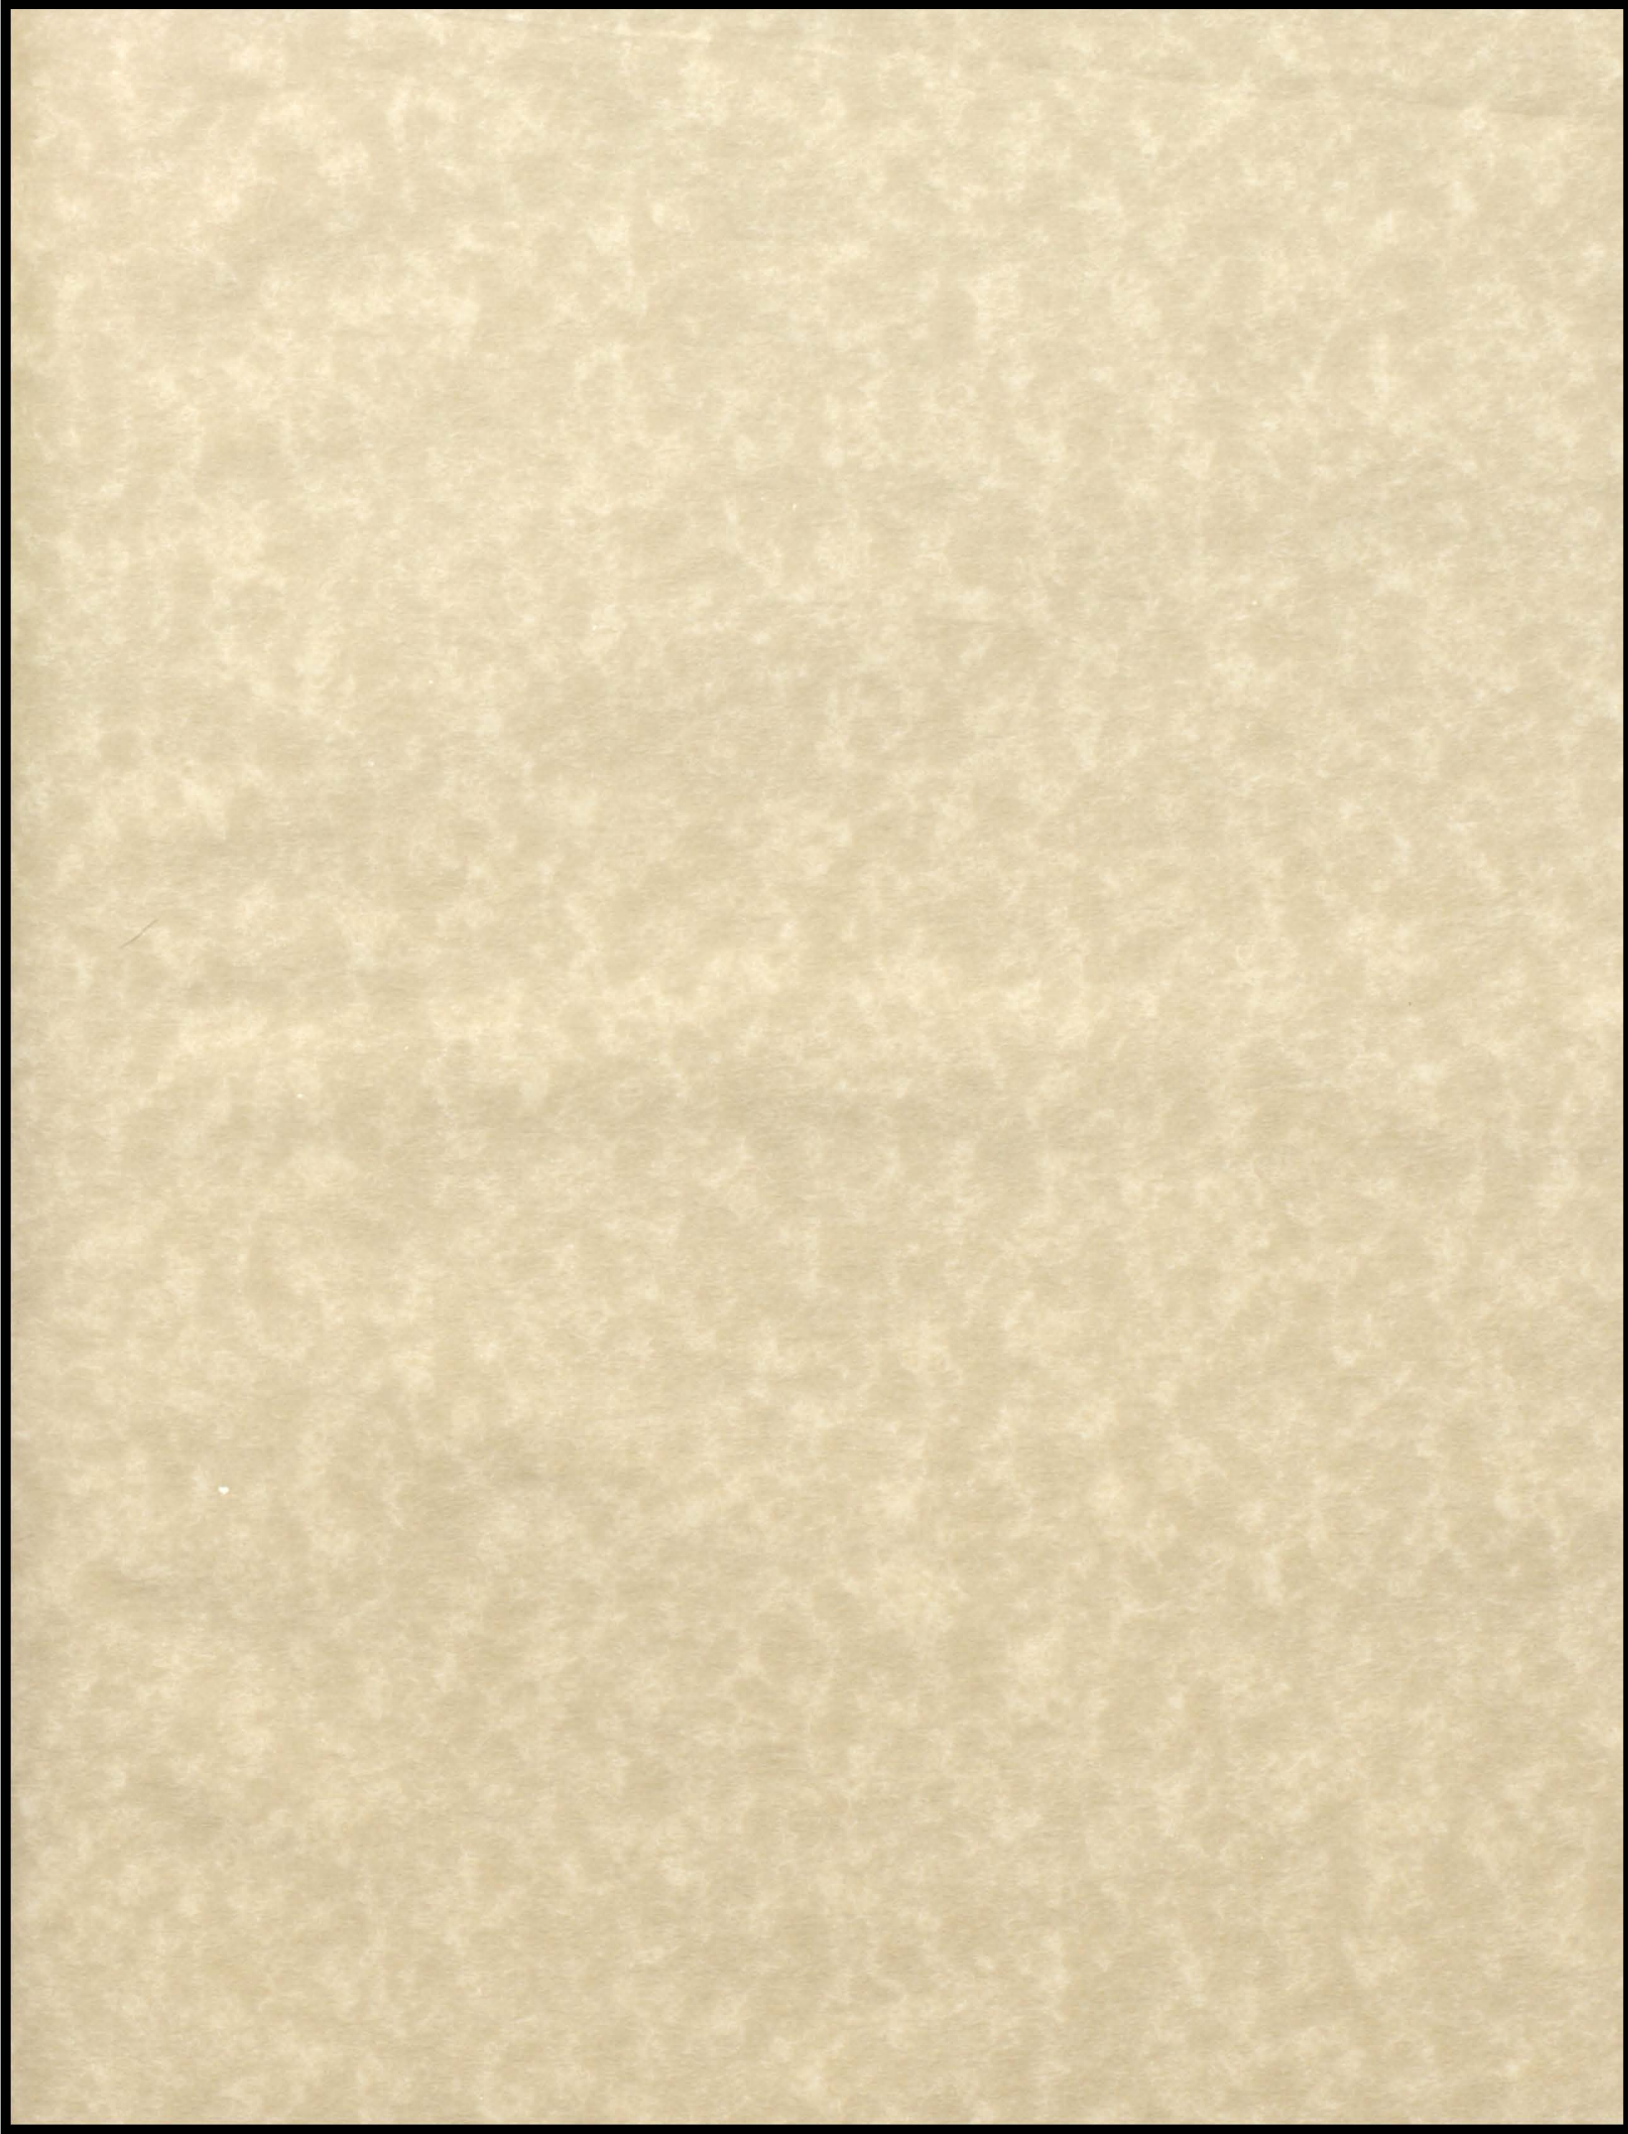

Together, we have accomplished many milestones. We have been able to achieve, to grow, and to succeed by working as a group. We have done more than fulfill our goals and dreams this year. As a school, we have learned to THRIVE together.

Balfour Publishing of Dallas, Texas, published the 2013-2014 Waconia High School yearbook, which consisted of 160 pages printed on 100# glossy paper. Approximately 795 books were shipped, each pre-purchased for $65. Fonts included Times 8 pt., Flipper 48 pt., and Valencia 20 pt. The cover was designed by Summer Dahl, Mady Wright, Anna Bruellman, and Lydia Weinand.

The yearbook was completed by students in the Introduction to Yearbook course and by extracurricular students. Students were advised by Megan Gregor and Melissa Weinand. The staff would like to thank Shannon Hart at Balfour Publishing; Lynn Laumann Photography; Melissa Marohl at The Waconia Patriot; Kali Breska; Jennifer Meyer; Tracey Kichler; Kelly Schiffman; and all other students, faculty, staff, and parents who contributed images for the book; Mark Fredericksen; Dave Kuehn; Jill Johnson; and office personnel Dianne Breyer, Lori Schwirtz, Judy Rademacher, Michelle Doerrler, and Mary Ellen Timmers. The yearbook staff would like to thank you for your resources, time, patience, and support while this book was in production.
